SCHOOL TAX REPEAL SIGNAL FOR STORM OF DOWNRIGHT FURY

Premier Hepburn Declares Action Taken to Forestall Possibility of Religious War—Member Ejected by Sergeant-at-Arms—Move for Closure Called Dirty Political Trick

TORONTO, March 24 (P).—Ontario Legislature tonight came to the climax of what was believed its stormiest session in history with a unanimous vote to repeal separate school tax legislation passed in 1936.

"It is my responsibility to forestall at whatever cost the possibility of a religious war in this province," declared Premier Mitchell Hepburn, in announcing acceptance of a Conservative bill to repeal the legislation.

After announcing his position, the Premier's dramatic move for closure caused Leopold Macaulay (Cons., York South), to protest so loud and long in defiance of Speaker Norman Hipel, that the Speaker ordered Sergeant-at-Arms Charles Rutherford to remove him.

EJECTED FROM HOUSE

As the sergeant-at-arms moved toward Mr. Macaulay, the member shouted to the House and gallery to see "the dirtiest trick perpetrated in Canadian political history for 100 years."

The sergeant-at-arms seized the protesting member and rushed him out of the House.

So far as could be learned during the excitement, Mr. Macaulay is

SAYS LEADER MAY RETIRE

Conservatives of Winnipeg Told Bennett May Drop From Party Helm

WINNIPEG, March 24 (P).—Conservatives of Canada may be called on before the end of this year to select a new national leader. Senator J. T. Haig declared tonight at the annual meeting of the Macdonald-Cartier Club.

"Have you made up your minds who will be the Conservative leader in 1938? Senator Haig asked. "Before the year is out, you may be called on to make that decision. The feeling in Ottawa is that Mr. Bennett (Conservative Leader R. Hon. R. B. Bennett) will offer to withdraw from the party leadership. He will insist that the view of the party throughout Canada be consulted."

FOUR NAMES MENTIONED

"There are four men whose names are prominently mentioned as successors if Mr. Bennett should retire. They are: Gordon Harrington, of Nova Scotia; Maurice Duplessis, of Quebec; Earl Rowe, of Ontario, and Erick Willis, of Manitoba. They stand out with possibilities of leadership."

Mr. Harrington is a former Nova Scotia Premier. Mr. Duplessis is Premier of Quebec, and Mr. Rowe and Mr. Willis are Conservative leaders in their respective provinces.

FOR PARTY TO SAY

"You are to be asked to choose whether Mr. Bennett is to be requested to carry on," Senator Haig said. He spoke of the Conservative leader as "a new man since he made his 'p around the world,' and one with a grip of world affairs not exceeded by any other man in Parliament."

He said, however, there is the possibility Mr. Bennett may resign from the party leadership after the Coronation.

THIRTY PERSONS HURT IN STORM

Dosen Homes Destroyed When Tornado Sweeps Through Section Of Kentucky

WINCHESTER, Ky., March 24 (P).—A "black ice cream cone" swept through the outskirts of Winchester and cut a swath through Clark County late today, inflicting at least thirty persons, five seriously, and destroying between twelve and fifteen homes.

William C. Gaywood, Jr., newspaperman, said it definitely was a tornado—"a number of persons saw it"—and described the funnel as resembling a "black ice cream cone." The Winchester hospitals were crowded with injured men, women and children and appeals were sent to Lexington for physicians and anti-tetanus serum.

Hunger-Mad Farmers Are Targets for Bullets Of Chinese Soldiers

Large Number Killed When Raiding Rice-Laden Junks—Mob of Refugees Pours Into Chungking—Thousands Reported Already Dead

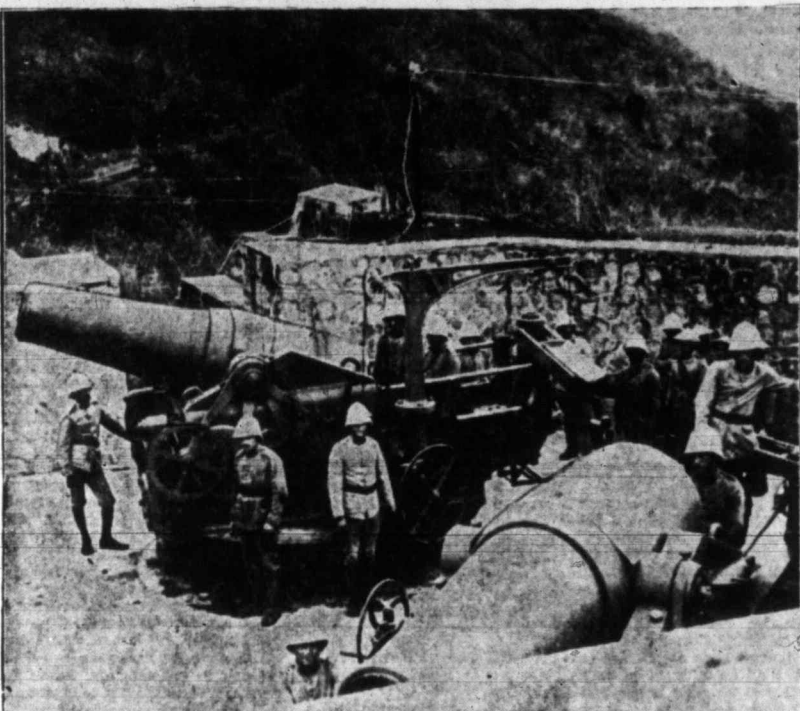

HANKOW, China, March 24 (P).—The story of soldiers firing upon 800 hunger-crazed farmers attacking rice junks at Yungchwan, southwest of Chungking in Szechwan Province, reached here tonight from agents of the Bank of China.

A large number of the farmers were killed. Starving men and women, their farmlands burned up by seven months of drought, had raided rice shops, kidnapped children to sell them for food, and eaten tree leaves.

The Yungchwan mob, after being turned back by the steady fire of the soldiers, later attacked and demolished a magistrate's office.

Another multitude surrounded the

Says B.C. Election Will Be Held When Things Settled On Safe and Solid Basis

Premier Pattullo Cannot Say Definitely Whether Poll To Come in June

OPPOSED TO CUT IN NUMBER OF MEMBERS

PRINCE RUPERT, March 24 (P).—A general election will be held in British Columbia "as soon as a number of things we have in mind have been settled on a safe and solid basis," Premier T. D. Pattullo declared in an address in his home constituency here tonight.

Commenting on a possible election this year the Premier said: "Possibly due to orders having been issued to bring the voters' lists up to date and possibly because it might seem to be an advantageous time for us to go to the country, some have been guessing there may be an early election."

CANNOT SAY DEFINITELY

"With courts of revision to be held on April 19, it has been figured out that the earliest time we could hold an election would be in June, 1 of May or the first week in June."

Dolling Up Chaplains in Reich's Army

BERLIN, March 24 (P).—A splendid new Easter uniform was ordered for chaplains in the German army today by General Werner von Blomberg, War Minister.

Violet-colored tunics will be ornamented by swastikas and covered by a long grey coat. The trousers will be of lighter grey, striped with violet at the seams. Even the caps will be made gay with violet piping.

Extra-Territorial Rights Vanish When Leases Abandoned

TOKIO, March 25 (P).—Action was taken here today to sweep away the last vestige of foreign extra-territoriality in Japan. Ambassadors Sir Robert Clive, of Great Britain, and Joseph Grew, of the United States, and Naotake Sato, Foreign Minister, ceremoniously signed an agreement for abolition of the perpetual land leases held by ninety-nine Britons and forty-three Americans.

The lease holders, whose property is in Tokio, Yokohama, Nagasaki, Kobe, Osaka and Niigata, were given five years in which to give up their perpetual rights. The agreement provides for the conversion of the leases into the ordinary kind, subject to taxation.

Nineteen Killed In Blazing Wreck Of Private Bus

Only Five Persons Survive When Disaster Strikes Near Illinois Town—Big Machine Crashes Into Bridge Abutment After Front Tire Bursts—Two Passengers Critically Injured

SALEM, Ill., March 24 (P).—A tire blowout hurled a private bus against a concrete bridge abutment and turned it into a blazing wreck in which nineteen persons, including a four-year-old girl, were killed today. Only five persons survived one of the worst disasters in the history of motor bus transportation, and two of them were so seriously injured they may die.

FIVE DEAD IN AIR ACCIDENT

British Flying Boat Crashes In France During Blinding Snowstorm

MONSOLS, France, March 25 (P).—The death of an eighty-year-old woman passenger early today raised to five the number of fatalities in the crash of the British flying boat, Capricornus yesterday on the Sid Beaulieu mountain, near the village of Oroux, Department of Rhone.

Four members of the crew were killed when the big air liner, on her maiden flight from Southampton to Alexandria, Egypt, crashed into a mountain in a blinding snowstorm. Mrs. B. M. Coates, the only passenger, died several hours later in a nearby farmhouse.

The others dead were listed as Captain Peterson, First Officer C. E. Klein, Flight Clerk Dr. O'Brien and Steward F. A. E. Jeffcoat.

The only other person aboard, Wireless Operator J. L. Cooper, was not injured.

VIENNA, March 24 (CP-Havas).—Application was made to the French Embassy today by the Duke of Windsor for a permit to bring his favorite terrier into France.

FRANCE SEEKS AID OF BRITAIN TO FORCE ITALY'S COMPLIANCE

Tenders Called for New Fortifications Near Albert Head

OTTAWA, March 24 (P).—Tenders are being called for installation of new coast defenses in the vicinity of Albert Head on the southern tip of Vancouver Island. This will be part of the general scheme to increase the defenses of the Pacific Coast, which Hon. Ian MacKenzie, Minister of National Defence, told the House recently would cost altogether about $7,000,000.

Pioneering Clipper at Pago Pago

PAGO PAGO, American Samoa, March 25 (AP, Via Pan-American Airways Radio).—The Pan-American Clipper, pioneering a commercial air line from California to New Zealand, landed here today at 5:30 p.m. from Kingston Reef, but one flight removed from its destination.

The 1,546 miles from tiny Kingston Reef was negotiated in seven hours and fifty-one minutes, considerably better than was estimated for the hop.

MAN INJURED IN FALL OFF VESSEL

Lawrence B. Smith, Seaman On Island King, in Serious Condition

Injured when he fell from a plank between Mr. Island King and Evans, Coleman & Johnson Bros. dock, late yesterday afternoon, Lawrence B. Smith, able seaman, 44 Broadway West, Vancouver, lies in St. Joseph's Hospital in a serious condition. He sustained a heavy blow on the skull and torn ligaments of the left knee.

Police report that Smith was walking along the plank from the vessel to the dock, when a passing lumber truck ran over one end and tipped him off. He struck his head and knee on a fender log before hitting the water, where he remained about one and one-half minutes before being rescued by the Island King's crew.

A call to the police station was responded to by Inspector John T. Boulton, Sergeant S. Wilkinson and Constables Alex Briggs, Benjamin Acreman and George Claydars. Sergeant Wilkinson rushed a pulmotor to the spot, but Dr. A. C. Sinclair, who also responded, found it was not necessary. First aid and artificial respiration was rendered the injured man by Constables Acreman and Briggs.

Smith was taken in the police patrol to St. Joseph's Hospital, where Dr. Sinclair pronounced his condition serious.

NAME NEW AMBASSADOR

BERLIN, March 24 (P).—Dr. Hans Heinrich Dieckhoff, chief of the American section of the German Foreign Office, it was learned today, has been named as the Third Reich's next ambassador to the United States, to succeed Dr. Hans Luther. It was learned his name was proposed to the State Department of Washington and accepted.

Aberhart Moves for Closure When Party Refuses Its Support

Social Credit Members Out-Vote Premier on Motion to Adjourn Budget Debate—Many Speakers Demand New Economic Laws

EDMONTON, March 24 (P).—Shortly after he had been out-voted on a motion to adjourn the budget debate in the Alberta Legislature, Premier Aberhart moved notice of closure today. The closure motion is debatable and after it is moved, Easter Monday, debate may be continued until 2 a.m. Tuesday, when a vote would have to be taken.

Twenty-one Social Credit members over-rode the Premier's plea when he spoke against adjournment of the debate. The motion was moved by Dr. H. K. Brown (S.C. Pembina), recognized leader of the Social Credit members opposed to the budget and demanding immediate introduction of a Social Credit plan for Alberta. The four Liberals and two Conservatives in the House voted with the Government members opposed to Mr. Aberhart.

Earlier, the budget continued under fire of Social Credit members. "This budget, in conjunction with certain bills introduced in this House, is a complete denial of Social Credit," declared A. V. Bourcier (S.C. Lac Ste Anne). Other speakers supported Mr. Bourcier's declaration. "The budget is opposed to what we promised the people—Social Credit," declared H. O. Haslam (S.C. Manton-Clareholm). "I see no reason why I should support the budget. Let us forget politics and take up economics."

Ask Germany to Use Her Influence With Mussolini

PARIS, March 24 (P).—The French Government sought British aid tonight to force Italian adherence to the European ban on foreign volunteers to the Spanish civil war. Diplomatic authorities disclosed a French claim to "absolute proof" that Italian volunteers had landed in insurgent Spain since the ban became effective on February 20 and that the Government views the situation with "gravity."

NEARLY WAR IN CHAMBER

Italian and Russian Members of Non-Intervention Committee Clash

LONDON, March 24 (P).—A clash in which the Italian and Russian members almost came to blows gave the European Non-Intervention Committee's long-sought ban on foreign intervention in Spain an inauspicious send-off tonight.

In a tumultuous meeting, delegates of the twenty-seven nations comprising the committee settled the last details of a land-and-sea cordon around Spain.

ONE MORE STEP

Appointment of sixteen key administrators to supervise the international patrols left only the date for the scheme to become fully operative, to be decided by Admiral M. H. Van Dalm, Dutch general administrator of the arms-and-men embargo, and his aides.

The swift action of the committee, however, failed to allay fear that speeches yesterday by Premier Benito Mussolini and Count Dino Grandi, Italian Ambassador to London, presaged new Italian efforts to help the Spanish insurgents.

The session was thrown into an uproar when Ambassador Ivan Maisky, the Soviet member, charged

SMASH THROUGH TRENCH SYSTEM

Spanish Militiamen Advance Sixty Miles From Madrid—Insurgents Fail to Stem Tide

MADRID, March 24 (P).—Government militiamen reported today they had smashed through a trench system near Cogollos on the Guadalajara front in which insurgents were attempting to stand and halt the tide of Government advance, which reached points nearly sixty miles northeast of Madrid.

The Government infantry, dispatched last, charged after a three-hour artillery preparation and cleared the way for new gains east of the Aragon Highway. The scene of this success was less than five miles south of Almadrones, from which the insurgents launched their recent drive against Guadalajara.

Government air scouts brought in reports of heavy damage to Almadrones and Jadraque by bombing raids yesterday.

WOMAN ELECTED TO COUNCIL SEAT

Miss H. R. Gutteridge, C.C.F. Candidate, Wins Aldermanic By-Election in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, March 24 (P).—Vancouver elected its first woman council member today when voters gave Miss Helena Rose Gutteridge a plurality of 358 over her nearest opponent in the by-election to fill the vacancy created by the death of Alderman L. D. McDonald.

Miss Gutteridge, running under the banner of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, polled 5,617 votes to 4,659 for ex-Alderman H. L. Corey. Charles Jones, former city clerk, and ex-Alderman W. W. Smith polled 2,713 and 900, respectively.

The new member joins two C.C.F. colleagues on the council, Aldermen R. P. Pettipiece and Alfred Hurry.

Invited to Open Chelsea Bridge

OTTAWA, March 24 (P).—During his visit to England for the Coronation and the Imperial Conference, Prime Minister Mackenzie King has been invited to officiate at the opening, May 6, of a new bridge across the Thames at Chelsea. It was announced here today,

NATIONAL GOV'T RETAINS SEATS

Conservatives Elected by Large Majorities in Farnham and Tonbridge By-Elections

LONDON, March 24 (P).—Two former members returned to the House of Commons today as the Government retained the seats of Farnham in Surrey and Tonbridge in Kent in by-elections.

Godfrey Nicholson, thirty-five-year-old distiller who sat for Morpeth from 1931 to 1935 as a Conservative, won in Farnham, defeating three opponents by a wide margin. Nicholson polled 20,580 votes to 7,792 for Peter Pain, Labor; 2,327 for Linton Thorne, K.C., Independent Conservative and 154 for Edward Miller, "King's and people's champion."

Tonbridge went to Sir Adrian Baillie, Conservative member from 1931 to 1935 for Lintonthorpe, Scotland. Sir Adrian Baillie polled 18,802 votes to 8,147 for Harold Smith, Labor, and 6,073 for R. B. Matthews, Labor.

Joins a Warning To Prediction of Boom in Industry

Labor Minister Says Unemployed Men Need to Be "Reconditioned" Before Re-employment
—Employers Should Know Own Business Conditions Better

VANCOUVER, March 24 (P).—Hon. George S. Pearson, British Columbia Labor Minister, today predicted production figures for the province in 1937 would equal those of 1929, but warned industrialists that they would have to lay plans to recondition unemployed men for re-employment and to train youth to take its place in industry.

"The unemployment problem is more worry to a minister now than it ever was, for the number of idle British Columbia men going back into employment is not commensurate with the number of men being taken on by industry," he said in speaking before the Vancouver Board of Trade. "People on relief have not the means to travel over the country looking for work, with the result that industry is obtaining men from outside the province while Vancouver men are unable to find work. The only thing to do is to find jobs for these men."

MEN UNTRAINED

"The employment service is doing all it can to move men to where there are jobs, but we find that the work developing it is not work that a great many can do," the labor minister said. "Someone has to take up the slack and get men to work who are not trained for the jobs available."

"These men must be reconditioned and shown how to get back into industry," he said. "Unless you are prepared to do that you must either keep on with the present system or set up a form of unemployment insurance."

He asked the Board of Trade if it was willing to set up a committee and work with the Vancouver City Council and other bodies to get men reconditioned for jobs.

SUBVERSIVE ELEMENTS

Referring to subversive elements at work in the community, he said the best way to offset such influence was for each industrialist to see that conditions were right in his own business.

"Most of the labor troubles arise because the employer doesn't know what is being done in his own business," Mr. Pearson said. "If you want to avoid industrial strife assure yourself that conditions in your own organization are right and do not forget to police others in your group of fellow industrialists because one bad apple in the barrel will rot others. It is your business, not the business of government to see that things are right."

PECULIARLY DEPENDENT

He said British Columbia industry was peculiarly dependent on world conditions and, for that reason, the desire of his department to bring uniformity in wages was difficult to achieve.

"That's one of the main reasons why our method of setting the minimum wage is by occupation, each occupation being affected by price changes on world markets," he said.

AGREES TO WITHDRAW STRIKERS FROM PLANTS

LANSING, Mich., March 24 (P).—Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan announced tonight John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, agreed to withdraw striking members of the United Automobile Workers of America from eight Chrysler Corporation plants at Detroit.

The agreement provided the conference in the Governor's office would resume tomorrow if the plants have been vacated by then.

FISH AND GAME OFFICIALS MEET

Large Attendance at Important Meeting Held This Week in Nanaimo

NANAIMO, March 24.—Under the chairmanship of President Roger Monteith, Victoria, thirty members of the Affiliated Vancouver Island Fish and Game Association, with representation from Victoria to Cumberland and Alberni present, held a long meeting in the Hotel Malaspina on Tuesday night.

Interested spectators were J. Cunningham, Game Commissioner; J. Tait, Inspector of Fisheries; and Frank Greenfield, Game Warden for this district.

The meeting endorsed a resolution from the Cowichan association asking that all shooting of pheasants and other game birds be prohibited during closed season, except in special cases where it has been proven to the game warden that the birds are causing damage to crops.

The meeting voted in favor of a Nanaimo resolution asking that all fish traps, especially in the Sooke area, be abolished, and letters to this effect were ordered sent to J. S. Taylor, M.P., and Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M.P.

NAMED CHAIRMAN

George Beck, Victoria, was appointed chairman, with power to add, of a committee to investigate the question of public access to rivers and streams and lakes, after it was pointed out that the public was barred from certain fishing grounds in some instances through land on both sides of a river having been purchased by private interests, thus blocking the streams.

The meeting endorsed a resolution asking that salmon roe be permitted in Sable River and all rivers north for steelhead fishing during the closed season for trout. Nanaimo River was eventually included in the resolution. Cowichan club voted against it.

Recommendations will be made as follows: For the opening of duck season from Saturday nearest January 15, and in the event of a two months' season the opening date to be one month later.

Setting of the deer season after lengthy discussion resulted in a recommendation being passed that it open September 11 and close November 30, with permission to shoot bucks only and a bag of three for the limit.

The Game Association will be asked to have Major Allan Brooks, McTaggart-Cowan and Hamilton Laing used as members of an advisory board.

Nanaimo's movement to introduce moose on the Island received support.

NAME OF LEAGUE IS CHANGED AT MEETING

The Central Provincial Council of the Young Citizens' League of British Columbia met in the Campbell Building last night.

Due to the incorporation of Mainland branches, the council approved officially of the change in the organization's name from the Young Citizens' League of Victoria and Vancouver Island to the Young Citizens' League of British Columbia.

A charter secretary was appointed to officially issue charters for new branches of the league.

Extremely favorable progress of the Vancouver Central Division of the league was reported by the Vancouver organizer, and the Central Provincial Council officially went on record as approving the Vancouver branches' activities in combating the menace of Communism.

SUCCUMBS TO BRIEF ILLNESS

John Nute Had Resided Here
For Forty-Seven Years
—Funeral Saturday

Funeral services for John Nute, 311 St. Lawrence Street, aged seventy-eight years, a resident of Victoria for the past forty-seven years, whose death occurred yesterday morning at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, after a brief illness, will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in McCall Bros' Funeral Home. Rev. W. R. Brown will officiate, and interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Mr. Nute was born in Lunenburg, Cornwall, and came to Victoria at the age of thirty-one years, aboard the old Ss. Sardinia. His first employment here was as a carpenter and joiner with John Dean, and subsequently he was employed by Dixon & Howe, Multhead & Mann, and Drydales, local contractors.

Among the largest of local buildings upon which Mr. Nute worked was the Parliament Buildings. He also worked for some time in the shipyards on various contracts. For many years following this, he was in business for himself, and in recent years he was actively employed at the Moore & Whittington mill.

Mr. Nute's passing will be widely mourned among local builders, many of whom had been associated with him in the construction of a number of the larger buildings of this city. He was well known throughout the city, and was a member of Alexandra Lodge No. 116, Sons of England.

He is survived by his widow, at home; two daughters, Mrs. J. Y. Margison and Mrs. C. W. Cameron, and one son, Thomas Nute, all of Victoria; one brother in Lunenburg, and thirteen grandchildren.

School Board Plans To Reduce Estimates By Amount of $7,500

Ignored Suggestion of City Council That Budget Be Cut by $15,635.75—Trustee Bishop's Motion to Go Over All Items Defeated

SCHOOL trustees ignored a suggestion of the City Council to cut their ordinary estimates by $15,635.75 to a straight $400,000 and decided at a meeting last evening to try, and lop off only $7,500. They also agreed to write to the City Council asking that body to guarantee that if expenditures exceeded estimates for 1937, any deficit would be met, in view of reductions made since compilation of the first budget.

Trustee Percy E. George moved and Trustee John Wallace seconded a motion that the school board try and reduce ordinary estimates of $415,635.75 by $7,500 and endeavor to carry on. Trustee George stated schools would have to be closed if the sum allowed by the council was insufficient. The motion carried, with Trustees Kenneth Ferguson, Charles R. Bishop and Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin voting against it.

Trustee Walter E. Steneland moved and Trustee George seconded a motion that the board write to the council asking that body for a written guarantee that expenditures would be met if they exceeded reduced estimates. The motion carried with Trustees W. C. Moresby, K.C. Mrs. MacLaurin and Bishop voting against it.

MOTION DEFEATED
Trustee George, MacLaurin and Steneland moved a motion that the board go over the budget from beginning to end with a view to reducing certain items. The motion was defeated. At the beginning of the meeting, trustees cut a total of $4,000 from janitorial supplies, furniture and apparatus, reference books and educational supplies, but it was explained reductions would not become effective in view of the defeat of Trustee Bishop's motion.

Trustees George, MacLaurin and Steneland were appointed a committee to investigate the possibility of reducing the estimate of $10,896 for medical and dental services. The board also decided to write to the city water commissioner, asking for a survey of annual water charges totaling $3,000. Trustee Ferguson suggested an endeavor to increase income from Victoria High School Gymnasium and a possibility that the cafeteria might be made to produce a small profit.

In referring to the council's suggestion that the school board cut its ordinary estimates to $400,000, Trustee Moresby declared schools would have to be closed if the council did not provide sufficient money for their maintenance and operation. He was fully confident the board required at least $415,635.75, and regretted no concrete suggestions had been made as to how the board might cut estimates.

DANGEROUS CUT
Trustee Mrs. MacLaurin was sure the board had cut estimates dangerously. She asserted she was not one to cripple educational services of the city and felt the board could not carry on with less than $415,635.75 for ordinary estimates.

Trustee Ferguson saw no reason why the budget should not be reduced, even if no suggestions had been made. He suggested elimination of several unprofitable evening technical classes and a reduction in the buildings and grounds estimate. The city was going through a trying time of financial adjustment, and he felt the board could run closer to the wind until conditions improved next year, when such drastic economy would probably not be necessary. He pointed out to the board the council was attempting to lower the mill rate through decreased expenditures in order that many might save their homes.

Eastern Financier Called by Death

MONTREAL, March 24 (P)—Robert Adair, seventy-three, Montreal financier, died in hospital here today after a short illness. He was a native of Scotland and came to Montreal at the age of nineteen.

President of Hart & Adair Coal Company, Mr. Adair was also a director of the Royal Bank of Canada, the Montreal Trust Company and the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada.

Instead, they chopped down the provincial flag of the magistrate, declaring the banner was arousing the wrath of the gods, because the Chinese word meaning flag (chikan) also meant drought.

The bank's agents estimated refugees reaching Chungking numbered 30,000, with foodstuffs woefully inadequate.

Low water in the Yangtze River continued to block ship traffic through the gorges, holding back considerable rice from Wanhhsien.

Foreign missionaries and native relief agencies in Eastern Honan Province—a once rich wheatland—sent calls to Shanghai for money and rice, reporting 2,000 farmers already dead of hunger and exposure.

PLAZA OFFERING HUNTING STORY

"The Voice of Bugle Ann" Has Lionel Barrymore in Lead—Strong Supporting Cast

"The Voice of Bugle Ann," based on MacKinlay Kantor's famous novel of the old hunter who kills a man and goes to prison to avenge the death of his faithful hound, comes to the Plaza Theatre today.

Lionel Barrymore plays the central role of Spring Davis, the dog owner, and in the courtroom scene voices a gripping and dramatic tribute to dogs as friends of man. A romance between Eric Linden and Maureen O'Sullivan runs through the hunting story.

Spring Byington, Charley Grapevin, Dudley Digges, Henry Wadsworth, James Macklin, Jonathan Hale and Billy Newell have prominent supporting parts.

CO-STARRED IN ATLAS FEATURE

Freddie Bartholomew and Madeleine Carroll on Screen With Tyrone Power

For the first time in her theatrical career Madeleine Carroll has had to study dancing. A charming scene in "Lloyd's of London," Twentieth Century-Fox triumph, coming today to the Atlas Theatre, finds the lovely Madeleine dancing a minuet with Tyrone Power, her handsome lover in the film.

Freddie Bartholomew is co-starred with Miss Carroll, with the cast also featuring Sir Guy Standing, C. Aubrey Smith and Virginia Field.

Darryl F. Zanuck, Twentieth Century-Fox production chief, selected Henry King to direct with Kenneth Macgowan as associate producer.

"Lloyd's of London" was adapted for the screen by Ernest Pascal and Walter Parris from the original story by Curtis Kenyon.

COLUMBIA SHOWS "ROARIN' LEAD"

Western Picture Opens at Local Theatre Today; "Three Mesquiteers" Featured

Christine Maple who makes her film debut in Republic's "Roarin' Lead," featuring the three mesquiteers at the Columbia Theatre for the first time today was featured in Ziegfeld's "Smiles" in the "Follies of 1931." She plays the feminine lead opposite Ray Corrigan, Bob Livingston and Max Terhune.

Also featured with the actress and the "three mesquiteers" are Tommy Bupp, Hooper Atchley, George Chesbro, Yakima Canutt, George Plues and Grace Kern.

CAPITOL Four one-time stars of the silent screen are seen in important roles in Samuel Goldwyn's production, "Beloved Enemy," starring Merle Oberon and Brian Aherne, and showing for the last times today at the Capitol Theatre. They are Jack Mulhall, Pat O'Malley, Tom Moore and Wyndham Standing.

DOMINION Edward Arnold as the captain of an industry, rich, self-indulgent, carries the male romantic lead in "John Meade's Woman," a powerful romance in which he is co-starred with Frances Larrimore. The picture shows for the last times today at the Dominion Theatre. Miss Larrimore, noted stage actress, makes her screen debut in this film. Gail Patrick, George Bancroft, Sidney Blackmer, Allen P. Ringle and many others are in the cast.

Gale Sweeps Wide Swath Over States

CHICAGO, March 24 (P)—A blustering gale swept snow, hail, rain, sleet and dust across eleven states today.

A tornado killed two persons in Alabama while snow-laden winds that attained a velocity of fifty miles an hour spread damage through the midwest. Heavy snow halted traffic, snapped communication lines and isolated communities behind drifts that ranged up to six feet in the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Reaps Harvest By His Courage

TOKIO, March 24 (P)—Certain wary shopkeepers, worried by a flood of counterfeit five-yen notes (about $1.42), but up signs:

"No five-yen notes accepted here." Another hung out this notice: "This is the only shop which welcomes customers wishing to buy goods with five-yen notes." He reaped a harvest of sales—and only one fake note.

COSTLY COMMISSION'S REPORT IS DELAYED

OTTAWA, March 24 (P)—Up to March 19 Mr. Justice W. F. A. Turgeon's Royal Commission which probed the Canadian textile industry had cost the country $142,394. Hon. Charles Dunning, Minister of Finance, told a questioner in the House of Commons that the minister added he had no information as to when the commissioner would make his report.

SAYS LIBERAL REGIME FAILED

Municipalities Ignored While Debt of B.C. Mounts, Conservatives Told

"The public is sick and tired of promises. It wants and is entitled to a constructive solution of its problems," Leslie F. Osborne, Conservative candidate in Saanich, declared before Ward Three city Conservatives, last evening, in an address which won for him a spirited welcome. William Duck presided at a well-attended meeting.

"If we are to go by actions, the Liberal Administration across the Bay has collected larger revenues from liquor and gasoline, and reduced grants to the municipalities. It has boasted of retiring a maturing bond issue for $3,500,000 in May of last year, and then borrowed $3,000,000 additional. It has committed us to spending $4,000,000 just to put the name of the Prime Minister on a new bridge, while the old one was sound and would have done for years to come," Mr. Osborne declared.

INCREASED DEBT

"Between November, 1934, and March, 1936, the Administration increased the funded debt of the Province by $8,100,000, or from $169,000,000 to $177,100,000 in about eighteen months. That will cost us approximately $500,000 a year more in interest charges alone, or say eighty cents per head per month. Underneath all the promises, the S.P.A. the Health Insurance Act and others, that is what is being done. I speak particularly for the younger generation. We say that public business is the largest and the worst-managed business in the country. We say that promises are not enough, that something constructive must be done if we are to build up a nation and keep our young men and women at home. They are leaving the country now, and they have had very little reassurance from Ottawa, where R. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King seems to be trying to make Canada some kind of a subsidiary to the United States," Mr. Osborne declared.

PRODUCER GOT LITTLE

Touching briefly on market control measures, the speaker said Saanich had a direct interest in seeing that the primary producer received a fair return for his products. Such control, however, must remain fair to the consumer also. The spectacle last year of potatoes selling at $37.40 per ton to the market, while the producer received $11.54 per ton, showed that the present machinery was not working in the best interests of either producer or consumer, Mr. Osborne said.

R. D. Harvey, president of the Victoria Conservative Association, spoke briefly, congratulating the Saanich candidate on an able address, and complimenting Ward Three on an active and vigorous organization. City Conservatives would nominate shortly, he stated.

Silent, standing tribute was paid to the memory of the late Nelson McDonald, a lifelong member of Ward Three and its representative on the central executive for many years. E. E. Coady-Johnson was elected to the vacancy.

Film Production Being Continued At Rithet Farm

Initial location work in Central Films' limited current production, "Women Against the World," was commenced at the Rithet Farm, Royal Oak, yesterday.

Meanwhile, sequences are continuing on schedule. The night club scene, showing twenty-five couples dancing at the "Paradise Club" has been completed. Those who took the floor gyrated while the orchestra merely went through the motions. Sound will be inserted later.

The cast is still arriving. Eric Edwards, who made a comparatively leisurely trip up from California, is registered at the Dominion Hotel, and will commence work forthwith.

BRITISH SHIPPING OUTLOOK

In a report presented at the annual meeting of the Liverpool Steamship Owners' Association the following statement was made: "The difficulties of British shipping during the past six years are attributable to two main causes: first, the shrinkage of world trade; secondly, the great increase in foreign competitive tonnage, in part operated under State financial aid. Of these two causes, it is the first, and not, as is the popular impression, the second, that is paramount."

The report discusses the nation's shipping needs in any future war. One thing lacking at present is storage room in the inland centres for the distribution of essential imports of food and raw material. This distribution in times of peace is made at far less cost from the ports at which such imports are landed. In time of war it is desirable to pass on such distribution to inland centres, for if it is done as now the ports are called upon to meet exceptional naval and military requirements. It is, therefore, claimed that "if the British Mercantile Marine can, by the restoration of world trade, be kept in employment, and if sufficient additional storage and distributing inland centres be provided, the Association is confident that, as in the first and second years of the late war, British shipping will again be available to maintain the imports of foodstuffs and raw materials essential to the nation's existence."

It is pointed out that three generations back Great Britain abandoned as hopeless the attempt to keep the population alive on the food raised in the country. Attention was then turned to overseas trade; the mercantile marine was developed. The situation now reached is that Great Britain's buying power is controlled and limited by her selling power in the markets of the world. She must buy to feed her population, therefore she must sell. That is why the shrinkage of world trade is the great problem for British shipping. Ships and ports are only in use when there are cargoes, and, as the report points out, "Cargoes of the supplies of food and raw materials that are essential to our existence can only be obtained from overseas in exchange for our exports of commodities and services which other nations are ready and willing to accept from us."

DEVELOPMENT OF PRIVATE SCHOOLS

Dr. Cyril Allington, late headmaster of Eton, has been paying a visit to the United States and has made some interesting comments on education there. He alludes to the character of the school buildings there with admiring envy, and says, though much of the best teaching in the world has been given in very inadequate rooms, that is no sort of reason against having good buildings when they can be afforded. He did not make any investigation of the State system of education, but says the main criticism of it that he heard was that it was too much standardized and that more emphasis was laid on the amount of ground covered than on the intelligence developed in the process.

It is in relation to private schools (or public schools as they are called in England) that Dr. Allington considers he has a right to speak. He sees in their development in the United States great changes during the present century. As yet there are few such schools as compared with England, where they hold a pre-eminent position, but he says they are multiplying, and those long established are largely increasing their accommodation. He admits that such schools concern a comparatively small section of the population, but he sees in their rapid growth something that appeals to him as an Englishman. In England such schools have developed a type of education which is congenial, which gives enthusiasm for the schools and a happy relationship between masters and boys. Dr. Allington then says:

"If our English experience is repeated (in the United States) they will breed a type of citizen who is prepared to set loyalty to the institution, whether it be school or city, State or country, above personal advantage, and there is no need to dilate on the value of this attitude. It may be a mere coincidence that the last hundred years in England, which have witnessed the growth and development of this system, coincide with the period in which corruption has disappeared from our political life, but at any rate the coincidence is worth noting. The second reason which makes these schools interesting is of more general concern. It is because they tend to regard the purpose of education as the formation of character and not merely the imparting of instruction. Unless I am mistaken, America has in the past tended to look on education too much in the latter light. The brilliant author of 'The Epic of America' says bluntly that 'the educational system, devised by the people for the people, did not aim at training either mind or character, but only at instilling facts useful for making a living.' He is, of course, referring to a past age, but it would seem probable that the country has not entirely recovered from this false orientation."

TAX ON COSMETICS

In Great Britain a proposal has been put forward by a Select Committee of the House of Commons that there should be taxation on all cosmetics. Subject to certain exemptions, it is recommended that the following articles shall be liable to a duty based on the retail selling price: "Preparations or substances of any sort, including medicines, medicaments, medicated articles, drugs, herbs, fumigants, inhalants, disinfectants, antiseptics, soaps, tooth pastes, tooth powders, mouth washes, medicated wines, natural or artificial mineral waters or compositions for making such waters, confectionery, toilet preparations and cosmetics, to be used or applied externally, internally or otherwise as medicines or medicaments, which are recommended, held out or advertised in any way whatsoever either directly or indirectly (whether by public display, wireless telephony or other mechanical reproduction of the human voice or by label, notice, circular or other written recommendation or otherwise) for the prevention, cure or relief of any human ailment, defect, disorder, condition or habit or for the treatment of any part of the human body or for the protection or maintenance of bodily health."

In effect, what is proposed is a new schedule of dutiable articles, including toilet preparations and cosmetics advertised as remedial, and if it is found difficult to distinguish between cosmetics which claim to be remedial and those which do not, the taxation of all cosmetics should be considered. Women through their fashion decrees have been large contributors to the exchequer of governments. It appears that they may be taxed more heavily still in the future when paint and powder and all auxiliary facial adornments provide additional governmental sources of revenue. This new taxation, however, can be escaped if women allow nature to do the work of beautification.

DISCRIMINATION

Representation of Militia units of this country at the Coronation should be based on Militia strength in the various parts of the country. There is just cause for protest because Victoria has been discriminated against in this respect. In this Military District Vancouver Island has approximately half the Militia strength of Vancouver and New Westminster, and yet the latter are to send six Militia representatives to the Coronation and Vancouver Island only two non-commissioned officers, one from the Canadian Scottish and one from the Fifth Regiment, C.G.A. The Canadian Scottish are affiliated with the Royal Scots, and that appears to be an added reason why it should be better represented than is proposed at the Coronation.

The choice evidently has been made, not on Militia strength, but on some other basis, perhaps a political one. Ottawa seems to be emulating the habit of the Provincial Government in discriminating against Vancouver Island and overlooking the legitimate claims of the capital of British Columbia. This process of discrimination has now extended to the Department of National Defence.

SOVIET NICKEL DEPOSITS

Norilsk, where the Soviet Government has discovered immense nickel deposits, is 1,200 miles northwest from the northern tip of Lake Baikal and a couple of hundred miles within the Arctic circle. The deposits are to be developed and a railway is to be built to Norilsk, which will be the most northerly in the world. There is coal available near the nickel deposits, and the preliminary development will be implemented by the use of airplanes. Moreover, giant icebreakers are to be constructed to lengthen the season of navigation. Russia is seeking to build up a reserve stock of nickel which she needs for her engineering works and defensive preparations. Even the handicap of distance which the new deposits present is to be overcome, though at great expense.

THE KATATHERMOMETER

The Katathermometer has arrived! It is an instrument for measuring "cooling power," which has been defined as the capacity of the air to absorb surplus heat from the human body, and it is claimed that by means of the katathermometer it is a relatively simple matter to discover whether the atmospheric conditions in a workroom are suitable for the work being performed there.

This was one of many interesting points in a paper upon "The Application of Psychology to Business and Industry," by Mr. G. H. Miles, director of the National Institute of Industrial Psychology, which was given at an open meeting at Newport Secondary School, at Cardiff, reports The Western Mail.

Men are most apt to believe what they least understand.—Montaigne.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

This year two of the leading oil companies south of the border are preparing plans for the expenditure of several million dollars in the building of trailer camps and parking grounds along state highways for use by America's latest nomads, the motor caravanners. The New York Legislative Committee on Interstate Co-Operation has held a two-day session on problems created by the 250,000 one-night camps made by individual trailers in that state last year. Medical health services are planning what can only be described as quarantine camps for trailer users, when they pass from one state to another. Police forces are doubling road patrols. Merchants are preparing to follow the movable towns-on-wheels; and everybody but the tax-gatherers seem satisfied. The tax-gatherers one suspects, will find a means of catching up to the nomads; even if they, like British Columbia have to institute border licensing patrols, and post notices telling tourists to report to the nearest police office. The nomads, of course, will respond by going to those regions where the tax-gatherer is not in evidence; and publicity bureaus will vie one with the other in offering free trailer camps, free water, free light, and so on, down to free community singing. In the end, I suspect, the nomads will get thoroughly tired of it and settle down. It is an hysterical and irresponsible craze.

Lighthouses and their lights are the very symbols of constancy. In fair weather and in foul, by summer and by winter, in fog and clear vision, the light streams out in measured sequence, timed to the second. In homes along the Dallas Road waterfront parents for years have put their children to bed after a farewell wave towards the Trial Island light. Returning late at night from work, men and women have waited for the double-flash which denotes this particular light, and distinguishes it from others on the coast of British Columbia. There is a measured period of darkness, then the revolving beacon swings around into position, sends its cheery message of light and hope, darkness again, comes back for a moment with a reassuring beam, and then turns its light to sea for the balance of the circuit. The brief flash of the beacon lights up the waters of the Straits for a moment, in a path that, to the watcher on Dallas Road, leads from the island to the shore. This beam dapples the surface of the sea when it is wind-flecked and choppy, picks out the racing white-horses and the spume of a gale, or lays like a broad carpet on the tranquil bosom of the ocean when the water is content to be calm. In storm or in calm, however, the light is always there, lighting the hours of darkness with a constancy and a reassurance that has become symbolic of faith and hope. Mental lighthouses there are, too, and though their beams of truth, honor, justice and the like may be obscured from the world at times, always they return to beat with light the path that mankind must follow.

I like the Aibutus tree, that red-head of Vancouver Island woods. It has a sturdy independence of all other trees. It leans upon no paternalistic conifer, but stands on its own soil with courage and originality. Here before me as I write is a typical example, growing on the hillside. Its roots are thrust boldly beneath great broken rocks. The rain has carried the soil away in places, exposing the tough and fibrous texture of those roots. The stem has grown aslant, its boughs with fine discrimination spreading upright from the upper side of that red and leaning tower of strength. Lightning at some unremembered date has blasted the upper branches on one side, but despite all this, its heart is sound. It is not sap that runs in such a tree as this. Dig but a knife into that tough and reddened bowl, and surely, it will run with good red blood, or so it seems. The upper branches of the boughs are traced against the sky with feathery twigs, like pencilled lines on canvas. There are the pear-shaped bough leaves, in which ten shades of green blend in startling patterns. The Aibutus has, moreover, a fiery independent nature; ready to give and to take; to bear all that the elements may send, and still stand unbowed upon the hillside. It is indeed the red-head of our Island wood—a tree with character.

A mariner friend tells me that the Red Sea is red because of the presence there of large quantities of small marine forms of life called "brit," the common food of Right whales. In the hot sun, he states, the tiny creatures come to the surface of the water, die, and turn red like any shellfish. One can readily imagine even international complications if the Red Sea should ever become less brit-lab.

LONDON, March 24 (P).—Scotland Yard issued an urgent general warning today to search for a packet of dangerous chemicals—containing potential death for hundreds—lost by a messenger boy on his routine delivery rounds.

CAVALRY OFFICERS STILL GIVEN HORSES

LONDON, March 24 (P).—Aimed at keeping alive the cavalry tradition, a decision has been made by which the officers of cavalry regiments, converted to mechanization, will be provided with riding horses for hunting and point-to-point meetings. One horse will be made available to each officer as against two horses allowed him previous to mechanization.

Radio Feud Settled

Now that Fred Allen and Jack Benny have concluded their radio feud in an amicable appearance together and Mr. Benny has finally completed his rendition of "The Bee," radio listeners, in addition to the two comedians, can settle back to a normal life—or did you just ignore them both? Allen used to have to sit up all night, after hearing Jack's broadcast on Sunday, in order to frame answers to present on his Wednesday night show. Benny can put his hiddle back in the moth balls, and father can read the newspaper in peace on Wednesday and Sunday evenings.—W.I.F.

Mixed Geography

Two elderly women at a recent private exhibition of three films were having great difficulty in following the unorthodox technique of a weird Russian propaganda production, "Goodness," remarked one. "This is hard to make sense of. Where are we now? In Russia?" The other woman was silent for a few seconds before she answered: "No, I think we are in Soviet!" A schoolboy howler from a Spanish examination paper: "The little princess is her transparent to the throne." On Tuesday afternoon we saw a public-spirited citizen amble out of his shop on the corner of Douglas Street and Caledonia Avenue to sweep up glass left in the middle of the road by a careless motorist who dropped a milk bottle from his machine. On returning home from school one day, the eight-year-old daughter of a local resident found the gardener had cut down an ancient maple tree under whose branches she had spent many a happy hour. She immediately accused the man of treason and several other things. "I had orders to cut it down, missy. It was unsafe and rotten," he replied with a grin. "Well," said the youngster, stamping her foot, "couldn't you have de-rotted it?" Bill, the Broad Street barber, is a man who observes many things from the well-polished window of his emporium. He told us the modern girl was not afraid of anything—except a stack of dishes.—G.B.

Mistaken Identity

There are some who achieve fame, some who are born to it, while others have it thrust upon them. Your paragraphist is in the latter category. Twice yesterday I was hailed with a cheery "Hello, doctor" on our streets. It is possible that the physician in question would not be flattered. Later in the afternoon a stranger here asked me to direct him to "Hundinger" Street. Most fortunately, with the aid of a friendly passerby, he was directed to an address on Harbinger Street. This is reminiscent of the story of an elderly spinster who, meeting a gentleman for the first time, asserted she had undoubtedly met him before, and, after some thought, declared him to be a Mr. Blank. They were suddenly covered with confusion. A certain Blank had that day been hanged for a particularly atrocious murder. Finally, I have been asked on two occasions since residing on the Island, if I did not formerly live in Merritt, where, it is alleged, I was a policeman. I have never lived in the Interior. I have never been a policeman. And I can no longer flatter myself that I have the sort of face that, once seen, is never forgotten.—B.G.

May Boost Game

Earl McCready, Canadian heavyweight pachyderm, back from a tour of Australia with a few more dollars in the proverbial "sock," will headline Saturday's squirm fest at the Tillicum gymnasium. One of the leading performers in the business, McCready's appearance may boost the game and the gate receipts at the local palace de squirm. They certainly can stand it. . . . Harnam Singh, India's latest addition to the large army of performing pachyderms, is bowling over all of his opponents. New to the European style of wrestling and language, Singh crowds his opponents, smiles very little in English and says like a pleased child when he's putting on the pressure. . . . Reg Hopkins, most rugged and colorful of the local performers, has caught on to the showmanship in admirable fashion and really puts on a show when he does his stuff at the local gymnasium.—S.T.

 The Opera Concert—Next Thursday and Friday evenings, Trebell and Musin, together with an excellent company, will appear at the Theatre Victoria. Trebell's fame is so great in England and continental Europe that her name has been familiar among opera-goers for a long while. She is an artist of rare dramatic ability, and her voice, a pure contralto, rich in the lower tones and wonderfully clear and sweet in the upper register, imparts a vast interest to all her selections. Trebell will be heard the first evening in her greatest part, Aurora, in Verdi's opera "Il Trovatore," and on Friday night in "Carmen."

Shipping Fish East—W. J. Herrine, as an experiment, will ship today a quantity of fresh cod, packed in ice, to Donald and other points along the Canadian Pacific. Mr. Herrine understands the business perfectly and will, doubtless, make the enterprise a success.

New Hotel—A new hotel will be built at Goldstream this summer by James Phair at a cost of $5,000 or $6,000. Now that the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway is completed, this famous resort will be still more lavishly visited by tourists and others than formerly.

LONG SUFFERING ENDED AT LAST FOR THIS WOMAN

Finds Health After Taking Harris' Wondro Treatment

If you were a helpless cripple for eight years and had tried everything to no avail, you would know the joy that Mrs. M. La Bell felt when she found relief and new health after taking Harris' Wondro for her rheumatoid arthritis. Read her heartfelt letter of praise, printed below.

Dear Sir:—Eight years ago I contracted Rheumatoid Arthritis and was almost a helpless cripple. My joints all became enlarged and out of shape and the suffering was terrible. My teeth and tonsils were taken out and I took all kinds of treatments and serums but without any relief whatever. I had about given up hope when I heard about what Harris' Wondro was doing for Rheumatoid Arthritis in Vancouver, so I decided to give it a fair trial. I felt a great change coming over me before I had finished the first four bottles. My blood circulation improved, I became much stronger, could walk without a stick and felt better in every way. I continued it for a year and am delighted to say that I am now able to do all my housework, go shopping and visiting, eat and sleep fine. I think it is admirable what Harris' Wondro has done for such a serious case as mine and I feel it is my duty to let all sufferers of Rheumatoid Arthritis know of my case.—Yours gratefully, Mrs. Marguerite La Bell, 2103 Thirty-Fourth Avenue East, Vancouver. Phone Fraser 16121.

It's because Harris' Wondro is assimilated in the blood and thus circulated to every part of the body that it is able to bring relief to such outstanding cases of suffering and sickness as that of Mrs. La Bell. What Harris' Wondro did for Mrs. La Bell it is able to do for you, too. Order a treatment from your drug-gist today!

Harris' Wondro is for sale at all drug stores and is obtainable also in boxed capsule form. A bottle of Harris' Laxico, a medicine for constipation, is included free with every purchase of Harris' Wondro. If your drug-gist cannot supply you, order direct from George Harris and Son, Herbalists, Calgary.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

AVOIDANCE PLAYS

Often, when you are playing a hand, you will be anxious to keep one of your opponents out of the lead, either because he has established cards in some suit which he can cash if he obtains the lead, or because he could lead through an honor in your hand toward a tenace in his partner's hand.

When you give up a trick in order to effect some suit-establishment play, you should try to lose the trick to the opponent who cannot make the lead that you fear. Two simple methods of keeping a dangerous opponent out of the lead are to choose the direction of your finesse properly and to duck a trick to the other opponent. For example:

NORTH

AK6

AQ8

AJ109

SOUTH

A84

KJ7

The contract is no trump. No suit except clubs has been played. Suppose you know that East has several established clubs, but West has no club. Therefore you lead a heart, which dummy wins with the queen. Dummy now leads the diamond nine, and you play the diamond three. Even if West has the queen and wins the trick he cannot lead a club. If West had the clubs the diamond finesse would be taken through West.

TODAY'S HAND

There is a great temptation in certain hands to shade the requirements for an opening two bid and if a player falls into this temptation he is not greatly to be censured. But it is inexcusable to make two bidding errors in the same hand as South did in the one shown below.

The bidding:
South West North East
2♥ Pass 2NT Pass
3♥ Pass 4NT Pass
5♥ Pass Pass Pass
South's hand contained only four-point honor tricks and had more than five losers, thus it did not conform to the specifications for an opening two bid. North's holding technically warranted a positive response since he had one-plus honor tricks, but in the absence of any ace North properly exercised the option of first bidding the negative two no trump. Over South's rebid of hearts, however, North's no trump would be another completely negative bid and even four hearts would be entirely non-committal. On the correct theory, therefore, that a show of some strength at this stage could not be misleading North made the "non-conventional" bid of four no trump. In my opinion the choice was well founded. The trouble was that South did not take the proper inferences from North's two bids. He should have realized that, after North's initial negative response, a slam was out of the question. The fact that North later showed some scattered strength did not in any way change this. And if there were no slam in the hand, why jeopardize a game by reaching the five level? South's hand was almost as well suited to no trump play as it was to hearts and certainly there was no reason to fear that ten tricks could not be made. Moreover there was the added danger that a five heart bid might influence North to stretch a little further and bid six, for which South could tell there would be no play. While it is highly desirable to play a hand at the right suit, it is sometimes even more important to stay at the proper level.

On the opening lead of a club by West and a diamond return by East the five heart contract went down to inglorious defeat.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Question—What is the correct response to an opening two spade bid with the following hand?

Answer—Three no trump.

PIONEER OF COAL INDUSTRY PASSES

W. R. Wilson, Long a Leader in British Columbia Mining, Dies at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, March 24 (U.)—William R. Wilson, pioneer of the Canadian coal mining industry in the Maritimes and British Columbia, died at his Shaughnessy Heights home here late today. He was eighty-two years old and had been in ill health for the past three months. He was a past president of the Canadian Mining and Metallurgical Institute.

His wife predeceased him three years ago. Surviving are four sons, R. W. Wilson and R. R. Wilson, of Vancouver; H. P. Wilson, of Fernie, B.C., and B. A. Wilson, of Pincher Creek, Alta., and two daughters, Mrs. Grant Smith and Mrs. A. R. MacDougall, both of Vancouver.

Mr. Wilson was general manager of the Crow's Nest Coal Company for many years and later president, occupying the latter post until his death. He was interested in several Coast gold mining companies and held interests in the Princeton, B.C., coal fields.

Victoria Musicians Heard at Sidney

SIDNEY, March 24.—A splendid programme of vocal music by members of the Victoria Male Choir, under the direction of Frank Tupman, afforded a delightful evening to a large assembly of music lovers in the lounge at Rest Haven, recently.

John Pepper, Victoria violinist rendered several numbers. Solos were given by Miss Iris Smith, John Bray and Frank Tupman, as well as several numbers by the male quartette. The accompanists, Miss Maquinn Daniels and Miss Marjorie Dixon, added much to the effectiveness of the programme.

CONSTIPATION CUTS DOWN YOUR ENERGY, DULLS HAPPINESS

Don't let common constipation take all the fun out of living. This condition drains your vitality and enthusiasm. It may also be the cause of dull headaches, poor appetite, sleeplessness. You feel puny.

Why endure half-sick days when you can correct constipation due to meals low in "bulk" by eating a delicious cereal?

Millions of people have used Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with satisfactory results. Laboratory tests prove it's safe and effective.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water and gently cleanses the intestines. Isn't this food better than taking weakening pills and drugs?

Eat two tablespoons daily. Three times daily, in severe cases. Serve as a cereal with milk or cream or in recipes. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in London.

SCHOOL HOLDS ANNUAL MEET

Cranleigh House Students Give Fine Demonstration To Large Crowd

The gymnasium of Cranleigh House School was filled to capacity on Tuesday evening, when the boys staged their annual competitions in boxing and gymnastics.

All the bouts were well fought, the boys showing smart footwork, clean hitting and a good defence.

The progress of the teaching of the programme opened with boys so small as to be classed as midges, worked on through the juniors to the seniors, who thrilled the gathering with their clever display.

P. Denbigh repeated his success of last year when he won the senior cup, the L. A. Genge trophy, by defeating S. Cotton, B. Jennings and R. Teasdale, all of whom pressed the winner very close.

The Randolph Bruce Cup, emblematic of the junior championship, was taken by J. Clay. Other boxers in this class, especially the Jennings brothers, Carr, P. Cotton, and last year's winner, Crowther, also Lemon and J. McLoughlin, showed promise and a great willingness to mix that delighted the visitors.

WINS TROPHY
 Little L. Watt took the Tyler Cup awarded to the best midge, and four others, J. and A. Hooper, B. McLoughlin and I. Forster won hearty applause for their showing.

The senior and junior squads then put on a clever gymnastic show, the winners being P. Denbigh and J. Carr in their respective classes.

A pleasing touch was added by the dancing of three Miss Mollie Mitchell pupils, after which all the boys staged a series of effective tableaux to bring a successful evening.

Yankees' First Baseman Tops Salaries — McCarthy and Cochrane Next

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP).—Topped off by Lou Gehrig's $36,000 contract, which makes the Yankees' iron man the highest salaried figure among baseball players or managers for the first time in his career, the 1937 major league payroll is the fastest on record.

On the basis of information gathered by the Associated Press, the aggregate in salaries to be paid this season by the sixteen clubs exceeds $3,200,000. As Gehrig's status as world champion, New York Yankees will break their own all-time mark by paying something like $368,000 to the hired hands.

Gehrig's salary boosts him slightly above the two highest paid managers, Marjoe Joe McCarthy, of the Yankees, and Mickey Cochrane, backstopping boss of the Detroit Tigers. Each is understood to be on the payroll for $35,000. Cochrane's salary includes an additional amount for holding the vice-presidency of the club.

MANAGERS HIGH
 Managers will be the highest paid men on eleven of the sixteen clubs. Top figure in the National League is the plot of the champion New York Giants, Bill Terry, whose five-year contract calling for $27,500 annually has two years to go. Dizzy Dean, understood to have signed for $25,000, is the highest paid pitcher, topping his two nearest rivals, Bob Grove, of the Red Sox, and Carl Hubbell, of the Giants, by $2,500 each.

A total of thirty-six players, twenty-four in the American and twelve in the National League, will draw down $15,000 or more for their season's chores.

OAKLANDS TRIUMPH IN JUNIOR FINAL

Defeating North Ward School by two clear goals, Oaklands School captured the junior city football championship yesterday afternoon at the Athletic Park by a 3-1 score.

Hitchman and Lott scored for the winners in the first half and Patterson, Dyson and Dobble stood out for the Wards, while Jones, Knowles, Lott and Neil showed up best for Oaklands. In the semi-final round, Oaklands beat Sir James Douglas, 5-0.

In the senior semi, Oaklands blanked George Jay School yesterday at the Athletic Park.

Sentenced to Jail—Jack Humphreys and Jack McMillan were each sentenced to twenty days' hard labor by Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court yesterday, on a charge of creating a public disturbance while intoxicated. A fight which the two accused had with four police officers on View Street was described, after Humphreys and McMillan had pleaded guilty. Sergeant James Patterson and Constable Douglas Bone received superficial injuries in the fracas. Constable Samuel McKenzie testified.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT FACE PIMPLES

These disfiguring little spots often result from a slight, temporary disturbance, or merely from incorrect cleansing, or sometimes they are more persistent due to deeper internal causes.

While properly treating the underlying cause, you can relieve the itchy, burning soreness and help your skin by using an ointment that will keep the medication in contact with the pimply spots. Apply it every night and leave it on all night. It does a world of good.

For more than 40 years people have used Resinol Ointment to fill this need. It soothes the irritation and aids healing. It also treats the oil pores where many surface pimples start. Washing first with Resinol Soap quickens the pleasing results.

Buy a jar of Resinol Ointment and cake of Resinol Soap from any druggist. For free sample write Resinol, Dept. 16, Baltimore, Md.

Regalia of England Interesting Theme For Club Address

Kyrle Symons Gives Fascinating Talk to Women's Canadian Club, Describing Crown Jewels to Be Worn at Coronation in May

HUMANIZED by many characteristic touches of humor and sentiment, illuminated by his own keen interest in and enthusiasm for the subject, Kyrle Symons' talk on "The Regalia of England," given yesterday at the Empress Hotel for the Women's Canadian Club, proved one of the highly popular addresses of the year.

The lecture began with a fascinating outline of the history of the origin of the various emblems included in the regalia, and concluded with a little description of the Coronation ceremony as it will take place in Westminster Abbey on May 12. In between was an inventory of Crown Jewels, which, the day before the Coronation ceremony, will be taken from the Tower of London, where they are kept, and deposited in Westminster in readiness for the great event.

ENUMERATES JEWELS

The regalia includes three crowns

for the King: King Edward the Confessor's Crown, the Imperial State Crown and Crown of India. The first of these, which had crowned every English king since Charles II in 1662, was a copy of the ancient crown destroyed during the Commonwealth. Mentioning that it weighed five pounds, Mr. Symons commented that the crown, particularly in view of the weight of other articles in the regalia which had to be carried or worn by the King. This crown was laid reverently on the King's head by the Archbishop of Canterbury, and was almost immediately removed and replaced by the Imperial State Crown.

Edward the Confessor's Crown (the crown of England) consisted of a circlet of gold surrounded by diamonds, four fleur-de-lis adorned with diamonds and other gems, and four crosses from which sprang gemmed arches of gold, the mark of sovereignty, and surmounting these a mound of gold surmounted by a cross.

Most famous of the jewels in the Imperial State Crown, made for Queen Victoria, was the Black Prince's ruby. Supposed to have been brought in ancient times from the East, and worn on a string by the Black Prince, this jewel had had a chequered history, at one time being stolen and repaying in the pocket of one of the thieves until his capture.

FAMOUS STONES

Other ancient stones in the crown were the Stuart sapphire; the two exquisite pearls which were earrings of Queen Elizabeth; the Edward the Confessor sapphire, more than 900 years old.

The Imperial Crown of India was made for George V when he was crowned Emperor of India at Delhi, this being made necessary because of a law forbidding the crown of England to be taken out of England. This crown was much like the crown of England and was ornamented with more than 6,000 diamonds.

There were also described the three crowns to be used for the coronation of the Queen. One of these was the crown of Queen Mary of Modena, wife of King James II; another was the diadem of gold, purple lined and decked with a gorgeous row of pearls, made at a cost of $110,000 for the same Queen to drive to her Coronation and never worn since; and the third was the State Crown of Queen Mary. This last, except for the great gems, was Queen Mary's own private property, and contained two pieces of the Cullinan diamond and the most famous diamond in the world, the Koh-i-Noor. Mr. Symons showed an erudite knowledge of the history of this last, tracing its story back through several Indian princes. It is valued at $150,000.

OTHER CROWNS

Other crowns in the Crown Jewels were the Crown of Scotland and the Prince of Wales Crown.

There were also in the regalia five sceptres: the King's royal sceptre with the cross, dating from Charles II; the King's sceptre with the dove, two similar sceptres for the Queen, and the long rod for the Queen. In the head of the King's royal sceptre was the biggest diamond in existence, the Star of Africa.

The two orbs were emblematic of the religious aspect of the ceremony; the swords, of which there were five, were emblematic of the military aspect, and included the sword

Frocks for the Spring Are Gay

Buy Intriguing One Now to Cheer You

If you are not one of the fortunate ones going South for a Winter vacation, you can at least look over the cruise clothes and those for the southern resorts, and maybe pick yourself out some frocks for Spring and Summer. For they are oh so intriguing, will cheer you up considerably and will come in handy later on.

Sketched are two of the new models which you can occasionally wear now, and all Summer. Left, is a two-piece in an all-silk Shantung weave with cute flapped pockets, a pin-dotted scarf and belt, and stitched around the edges. It comes in white with navy studs and scarf, or maize or aqua with brown.

White pique crisply finishes the corded cotton print at the right. It comes in navy with red, Open or Dubonnet, or brown with gold.

For Springtime the sleek broad-cloth reffer suit promises to be more popular than ever. The jackets are called "jigger" coats in California. They are short and boxy, and the new feature is velvet touches in pipings, buttons and collars. Molyneux is responsible for them, and shows them in every kind of suit, from sports to evening. The Spring prints lend themselves well to restrained pleating. Many of the cruise dresses use this form of treatment, and it is repeated in the new Spring frocks. In print design stripes are numerous, with the stripes often made up of flower patterns. They are very effective when pleated horizontally. The all-around pleated skirt is very pretty in print, and swings gently and gracefully in the milder air. The pleats sometimes are started at the waistline and stitched to the knee, then released.

Town ensembles consist of the full-length coat and printed dress, or reversing the order, the printed coat over the solid color frock. Coats often are fastened down the entire front, but may be buttoned only to the waist.

Girls' Auxiliary Will Meet Here Next Wednesday

The annual meeting of the Girls' Auxiliary of Columbia Diocese will be held in the Memorial Hall, Vancouver Street, on March 31 and April 1. Delegates will arrive from the Up-Island branches on Wednesday afternoon, March 31.

The programme of the sessions is as follows: Wednesday, March 31—4:30 p.m., registration; Miss A. Gardiner; 5:30 p.m., opening banquet, Memorial Hall; 7:30 p.m., business meeting, reports of officers, roll call of branches; speaker, Miss E. P. Hockin, R.N., nurse at Pangnirtung Hospital; play, Christ Church Cathedral Girls' Branch. This part of the programme is open to all who are interested in the work of the W.A.

Members Hold Tea Party for Mizpah Court

Mrs. E. S. Shadbolt and Mrs. P. J. Woodley were hostesses yesterday afternoon at a tea given for the Mizpah Court, Order of Amaranth, at the home of Mrs. Shadbolt, Stanley Avenue. The royal matron, Mrs. G. A. Hood, was presented with a corsage bouquet by Mrs. Shadbolt. Spring flowers decorated the reception rooms and the tea table was centred with a bowl of daffodils, with yellow tapers on either side. Pouring tea were Mrs. J. T. Boulton and Mrs. P. J. Woodley. Mrs. Dallaway was in receipt of custom.

Competitions were won by Mrs. Semple and Mrs. A. Pauline, and during the tea hour Mrs. Evelyn Holt sang several songs, accompanying herself at the piano.

Reception At Station Gay Affair

Chief Thomas Heatley and Mrs. Heatley, formerly Miss Margaret Walker, received last evening for the first time since their marriage. The reception was held in the social hall and ballroom at the police station and approximately 200 friends called. Mr. and Mrs. Heatley were assisted in receiving the guests by Miss Mary Heatley and Mr. Grant Macdonald. Mrs. Heatley wore a powder blue velvet frock with a corsage bouquet of violets and pink roses.

Dancing to the music of a well-known orchestra, the playing of cards, house-housie and Mickey Mouse competitions were thoroughly enjoyed.

Supper was served in the lower hall, the room being festooned with yellow and blue crepe paper, the police colors, and strips were placed the length of the table, which was arranged with bowls of daffodils. The two-tier wedding cake, made by Mrs. Gale as a gift, and topped with a miniature rose bowl filled with rosebuds and maidenhair fern, was cut by the bride.

Clubs-Societies

Malahat W.A.

A social evening was held in the S.L.A.A. Hall on Monday by the W.A. to the Malahat Branch of the Canadian Legion. The occasion marked the third anniversary of the inauguration of the branch. The invited guests included members of the Cowichan and of the local branch of the Legion. At military five hundred, the winning table included, Mr. and Mrs. Purver, Mrs. J. Dunkeld and Mr. A. J. Duggan, while a guessing competition was won by Mrs. J. Bell. A beautifully decorated cake, made by Mrs. A. Havers, and adorned with three candles, was the feature attraction of the dainty supper table. The first cut was made by Mrs. C. Jarvis, president of the Cowichan W.A. An interesting interlude was the presentation to the Malahat Branch of the Legion, by Lieutenant-Colonel P. T. Oldham, of a gavel, from the Malahat Lodge, A.F. & A.M. The presentation of a past president's badge was made to Comrade A. J. Duggan, by Comrade A. J. Castle, past president of the Cowichan branch. An entertaining programme of monologues and songs was given. It included numbers by Mrs. H. P. Wolf, Mr. H. G. Grainger, Mrs. J. C. Rathbone, Mrs. C. Page, Mr. W. Fish and Mrs. W. Edels. Mr. Grainger acted as chairman.

Kia-Ora Club

Mrs. C. Rawlings entertained the Kia-Ora Club at her home on Monday night. Court whist was played. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Ritchie, 709 Linden Avenue, on April 5.

Anglican Young People

Members of St. Alban's A.Y.P.A. are asked to meet at St. Alban's Church on Good Friday, at 9:15 a.m., from thence to join St. John's at 9:45 for a mystery hike. Each hiker is asked to take his lunch and a cup. The trip will be cancelled should it rain. A special church service will be held in the evening at St. Alban's A.Y.P.A. members are requested to attend.

LOCAL COUNCIL

The second of the monthly Sunday afternoon presidents' meetings was held at the home of Lenora Trickett, president of St. Alban's. Supper was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss H. Forsyth, after which those present attended St. Alban's service. Rev. P. Conley preached a sermon of special interest to the young people. Notice of the next meeting will be given later.

CENTENNIAL
The weekly meeting of the Centennial Young People's Society was held in the church parlor on Tuesday, with the president in the chair. The scripture reading was given by Kay Gillis, after which Rev. Dr. A. D. Reid led the group in prayer. The guest speaker was Mr. Brown, who spoke of his visit to Temple Square in Salt Lake City, describing the beautiful buildings in which the Mormons worship and several of the church services, which he attended. Games were played under the direction of William Deaville. Next week's meeting will be conducted by the devotional group.

Scurrah, Mrs. W. S. Pinfold, Mrs. M. W. Turner, Mrs. J. R. Brown (Grand Forks), Mrs. Wriglesworth, Miss E. Gurd and Miss M. Christie.

Guest of Honor at Shower

Miss Patricia Kirchin, whose marriage will take place at Easter, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given recently by Mrs. A. Couch at her home on Hillside Avenue. The many gifts were presented in a basket prettily decorated with crepe paper in shades of green and white. Prior to the presentation of gifts, Miss Kirchin was given a corsage bouquet of roses and fern from her hostess. Daffodils and greenery in a crystal bowl formed the centerpiece for the supper table. The invited guests were: Mesdames E. Kirchin, G. Kirchin, W. Smith, F. C. Wright, F. Rawlings, F. Wilkinson, J. H. Hammond, A. Corry, E. Musgrave, T. Bryant, J. Jackson, B. Fuggle, J. Skayman, W. ### "Bon Voyage" Social

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wright, Crofton, England, were entertained at a "bon voyage" social on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. C. P. Milne, 2403 Douglas Street. Mr. and Mrs. Wright gave interesting talks on their trip through Africa, New Zealand and Australia. Both received a hearty vote of thanks. Mrs. C. Milne and Mrs. C. P. Milne sang during the evening. Refreshments were served. All guests joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne" and for "They Are Jolly Good Fellows," and wishing Mr. and Mrs. Wright "God-speed" on their homeward journey. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. A. Allan, Mr. and Mrs. Brooker, Mr. and Mrs. Showers, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Enderidge and daughter, Gene; Mesdames S. D. Muir, E. Blackmore, C. F. ### Shower for Bride-to-Be

A shower was held recently in honor of Miss May Penderay, an Easter bride-to-be, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Penderay, 1501 Palmouth Road. The rooms were decorated with Spring flowers and streamers in pastel shades. A prettily-decorated wagon, filled with many beautiful and useful gifts, was drawn in by little Bobby Penderay. Games were enjoyed throughout the evening. The prizes were won by

"Wooden Soldiers" Tea Towel Designs

by Mayfair

MAYFAIR NEEDLE-ART-DESIGN NO. 302

There is "something about a soldier" that is fascinating, especially when he uses table silver for weapons and marches across the hem of kitchen towels. These amusing little warriors are four and one-half inches tall and have seven different attitudes, one for each day of the week. They are worked in bright military colors, using simple stitches only. A set of these towels would make a most acceptable shower or bazaar gift, but we feel sure you will also want a set for your own kitchen. The pattern includes a transfer for seven different designs, color suggestions, detail chart, complete instructions for embroidery and finishing, and sample of thread used in original model.

Surprise Party

A pleasant evening was spent on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. Woodward, Fairfield Road, when a number of her friends paid her a surprise visit. Games, music and dancing were enjoyed, followed by supper, the table being prettily decorated with a shamrock motif. The guest of honor received a silver rose bowl with many wishes for her birthday, and a toast to her was proposed by Mr. P. C. Richards. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. T. Hocking, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Murphy, Mrs. J. H. Butler, Mrs. F. Rowley, Mrs. L. M. McClellan, Mrs. F. Butterfield, Mr. and Mrs. R. Husham, Mr. and Mrs. A. Schroeder, Misses Isabelle Pike, Thelma Schroeder, Irene McAdams and Messrs. E. Anderson, Alex Warren and C. C. Warren.

Entertains for Sister

Miss Thelma Williams entertained last evening at her home, on Beaver Street, at a miscellaneous shower in honor of her sister, Miss Una Williams, a popular bride-elect. A doll dressed as a bride and surrounded by folds of pink tulle, upon which the many gifts had been placed, formed a charming centerpiece for the supper table, while daffodils in silver vases at the corners completed this bridal motif. Court whist was played during the evening and, later, a buffet supper was served. The guests included Mrs. W. G. Williams, Mrs. T. Edmonds, Mrs. L. Williams, Mrs. R. Knight, Mrs. L. Freethy, Mrs. H. Rounding and Misses Dorothy Freeland, Lillian Sadler, Ella Harrison, Marion Bell, Edna Deckerley, Margorie Bell, Margaret Knowles and Grace Duncan.

60,000 Italians went to Spain about the middle of February and declared many of them were soldiers of the regular Italian army.

AKIN TO INVASION

"This is one of the most flagrant cases of foreign intervention ever known to history," Malsky declared. "In fact, it is something akin to an Italian military invasion against a foreign country as understood by international law and the Covenant of the League of Nations." Count Grandi shouted, "I'll give the Communist Ambassador the answer he deserves."

Other members rose to their feet. Joachim Von Ribbentrop, the German Ambassador and committee member, accused the Russians of "hypocrisy" and the Portuguese delegate also answered with a burst of angry words.

The Earl of Plymouth, chairman of the committee and British Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs, and Ambassador Charles Corbin, the French member, found themselves cast again in their familiar roles as peacemakers. Corbin moved the Russian charge be referred back to a subcommittee, which was done.

NO EVIDENCE OFFERED

Since no evidence was offered to support Malsky's accusations, Lord Plymouth said, it was doubtful whether they were worth examining. The British Government was understood to be convinced these were no grounds for charges that Italian volunteers entered Spain after February 20.

As with previously selected officials, the sixteen new supervisors all were chosen from among smaller powers. Since it was apparent the new agents could not possibly be moved to their posts by March 29, the day originally set for the patrol to become operative, the deferred date was left to the advisory board headed by Van Duin.

cannot say definitely. The die has not been cast. But I will tell you that as soon as a number of things we have in mind have been settled on a safe and solid basis we shall hold a general election."

In regard to health insurance, scheduled to go into operation in British Columbia, March 1, but postponed indefinitely because of protests by the B.C. Medical Association over certain terms, the Premier said he hoped a satisfactory formula would be worked out shortly.

OPPOSED TO REDUCTION

Premier Pattullo said he was opposed to a reduction in Provincial Legislative representation as proposed by Dr. Frank Patterson, provincial Conservative leader, recently. Such reduction would centralize control in Vancouver, which already had fair representation, the Premier said.

The Premier told of efforts to secure readjustment of the British North American Act, giving British Columbia more equitable treatment.

SEEKS BRITISH AID TO FORCE COMPLIANCE

He told the ambassadors France had proof of violations (denied yesterday by Italy, which said only medical units had gone to Spain since the volunteer ban) and that France was not willing to allow intervention to go.

VERY PATIENT

He said France had been "very conciliatory and very patient" in the face of many violations of the non-intervention agreement, but the "wholesale Italian invasion in Spain" brought the risk to France of seeing her communications cut with North African possessions.

Delbos had intended, the diplomatic informants continued, to call in Italian Ambassador Vittorio Cerutti with the German Ambassador, but Cerutti is in Rome.

Boljard Fourtich, Yugoslavian Minister, brought to Delbos an assurance that the visit of Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian Foreign Minister, to Belgrade would in no way affect the French alliance with Yugoslavia.

THANKS FROM AUSTRIA

Alois Vollgruber, Austrian Minister, came to the Quai D'Orsay with the thanks of Chancellor Kurt Von Schuschnigg for "the generous terms" of the French commercial treaty, recently signed with Austria, and for "the warm sympathy France has shown for the present Austrian Government."

Delbos, it was disclosed, asked the German Ambassador to urge his Government to intercede in Rome to prevent Premier Mussolini from throwing over the whole non-intervention agreement.

The fact that there are 9,000 expatriated Germans fighting for the Socialist Government was discussed as a possible snag for any agreement to withdraw all foreigners from Spain.

It was pointed out these would not be able to return to Germany, and whether other countries would accept them was found to be a difficult question.

SCHOOL TAX REPEAL SIGNAL FOR STORM

The first member ever to be ejected forcibly from his seat in the Legislature.

Mr. Hepburn's move for closure following his statement that abandonment of the legislation was a bitter pill for him to swallow and that bloodshed had been threatened, brought cries from the Opposition, climaxed with Mr. Macaulay's removal.

"Contemptible," "the dirtiest trick ever," "Hitlerism," were the words that flew from the Opposition benches.

Closure has not been used in the Ontario House for a decade or more.

TERRIFIC UPROAR

The uproar in the House was terrific. Arguments across the floor soon grew personal between mem-

(For many years Assistant Professor of Household Arts, Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York, N.Y.)

Junior and young women will find this princess slip and pantie ensemble their favorite for everyday, as well as for more "dress-up" occasions.

Even though it's your first attempt at sewing, you'll finish this ensemble in no time at all. The princess slip follows the lines of the figure, so it can't rid up or twist. You can wear it neat, your sheer new Easter frock. It won't show any conflicting lines, for it is one-piece from the round neck to the hem with moderate flare.

You'll like the one-piece pantie with comfortable gathered fullness at the back with elastic inserted at the waistband.

When you shop for your material, just take a peep at the remnant counter. You're sure to find just the length of silk, satin or balise you need at a drastic reduction in cost.

The pattern includes a sewing chart. It shows the clearest illustrated instructions of this one-piece princess slip and pantie.

Style No. 3018 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20 years. Size 16 requires 3 yards of 39-inch material for slip, with 1 yard of 39-inch material for pantie.

The Spring and Summer Fashion Book is filled with lovely designs for everyday wear, which are easy and inexpensive to make.

bers. It was five minutes or more before Speaker Hipel could restore order.

In contrast to the wild scenes, but matching them for drama, were the words of Premier Hepburn when he confessed his disappointment, his frustration and sorrow that he was now compelled to vacate what he called an act of justice done in 1936.

The act, which allotted certain corporation taxes between separate and public schools, had proved unworkable, the Premier confessed, because of the complicated financial set-up of modern corporations.

ACCURACY IMPOSSIBLE

It was not possible to determine accurately the ownership of shares in corporations for the purpose of allocating their taxes.

Mr. Hepburn declared that in the December 9 Hastings East by-election appeals to prejudice by Conservatives, opened sores which would not heal in this generation. "Now, I'm taking this act out of the picture as a political issue," he continued.

OXFORD ENDS CAMBRIDGE'S LONG WINNING STREAK

Cardinals Chalk Up 29-15 Victory Over Vancouver Province

Jack Taylor's Cagers Win Coast Title With Fine Triumph Over Mainlanders—Canadian Scottish Capture Island Laurels—Metropolitans Lose to Nanaimo

Sparked on to victory by the point-getting ability of comely Phyllis Blackmore, who caged twelve points, Jack Taylor's Cardinals last night defeated the Vancouver Province hoopers, 29-15, in a sudden-death fixture for the Coast basketball championship.

It was Phyllis Blackmore who broke the 10-10 deadlock in the third period, when she caged one of two shots from the strip and then widened the Cards' lead with a field goal. This was the turning point in the game and from this stage to the final whistle the locals outplayed their Mainland opponents.

Marking up their second straight triumph over the Metropolitans, Harvey-Murphy's Nanaimo junior boys' quintette captured the Vancouver Island honors when they defeated the locals, 23-15, in the first of the three games played at the Victoria High School gymnasium. The Up-Islanders took the first contest, played on their home floor, 37-33, and won the round, 60-42.

SCOTTISH WIN
Canadian Scottish Intermediate "B" basketballers had too much ball-handling ability for the Nanaimo Dakins and registered a 30-16 victory in the final fixture of the home-and-home games for the Island laurels. Scottish defeated Nanaimo, 43-16, at the Up-Island town and carried off the series with the one-sided total of 93-32.

Vancouver Province only held the lead twice in their fixture with the Cardinals and then it was in the first quarter. After Virginia Hall opened the scoring with two free shots, "Spiff" McEwen, tall, good-looking tip-off ace, who controlled the jump practically all evening, knotted the score at 2-2. Alice Lessard dropped home a beauty from the side of the maple court and the visitors went on top by two points. Victoria called time out, as play resumed, Phyllis Blackmore took a Cardinal rebound and scored. Joan Bullock dropped one home from the blue line, but before the quarter ended, Phyllis Blackmore scored the tying points. The quarter ended with the teams deadlocked in a 6-6 score.

There was little scoring in the second quarter. Cardinals caged four points when Jane Trotter and Phyllis scored from the foul line and Virginia Hall added a field goal. Connie Williamson canned the Vancouver Province's only points with a set-up just before the end of the period. The half-time score was Cardinals 10, Vancouver Province 8.

SCORE IS TIED
Alice Lessard pushed one through from the blue line to knot the score at 10-10. Cardinals, heavier and bigger than their opponents, except for the tip-off position, began to wear the visitors down. They ran in eight points without a return and when the third quarter ended Cardinals were leading 18-10.

Locals continued to have the better of the play as the final session opened and ran the score to 25-10 before Vancouver again crashed the scoring column.

With little more than two minutes to go and the score 25-13 in favor of the locals, Manager Jack Taylor sent in Eva Elston and Anna Peden, his first substitutions of the evening. Phyllis Blackmore and "Bing" Crosby came out. Victoria scored four points to the visitors' two in the last few minutes and wound up on the long end of a 29-15 count.

Tommy Macdonald and Wally Stipe handled the Coast final, and Bob Macmurchie, Victoria, and Honey-moon, Nanaimo, worked the two Island play-downs.

SCORES FOLLOW:
Metropolitans, Victoria—Morrison (7), Finlayson (2), Myers (4), Ross (3), Coates, Mason, Garrison, Sellick and Humber. Total, 15.
Harvey-Murphy's, Nanaimo—Pashley, Baker (8), Porter, Cooper (1), B. Manson (7), W. Manson (3), Ryan (4) and Nicol. Total, 23.
Dakins, Nanaimo—B. Fraser (7), G. Baker (2), N. Vender, T. Bertram (3), J. Vance, E. Thomson (2) and L. Bertram (2). Total, 16.

Canadian Scottish—Whyte (9), S. Martin (5), Purdy (3), McCall (1), Mylrea (10), Lovell (12), Fair (4) and Priker (5). Total, 50.
Province, Vancouver—B. Code, J.

National League Squads Continue Play-Off Series

(By the Canadian Press)

STANLEY Cup play-off games continue along the National Hockey League battlefield tonight. At Detroit the Montreal Canadiens will clash with the Red Wings in the second game in the semi-final and the N.H.L. title series, best of five. Detroit won the first game, 4-0. In the preliminary series, best of three, Montreal Maroons journey to Boston to meet the Bruins in the second game, while Toronto Maple Leafs invade the lair of the New York Rangers for their second, tense, tie. The Maroons trimmed the heavy-cheeked Bruins in the opener, 4-1, while Lester Patrick's squad blanked Connie Smythe's Leafs, 4-0.

New Westminster Fifteen to Play Oak Bay Rugger

OAK Bay Wanderers, undefeated champions of the Intermediate Rugby League, will oppose New Westminster oval ball fifteen, Saturday afternoon, at Macdonald Park, in an exhibition fixture. The kick-off is set for 3 o'clock. The game will be played on the lower field at the James Bay enclosure. On the upper ground Bays and Canadian Scottish will battle in the play-off encounter for the Barnard Cup, emblematic of the city championship.

MALONEY WILL MEET INDIAN

Boston Grappler and Chief Thunderbird Booked for Semi-Windup Saturday

Boston's Pat Maloney, who once was a copper in the "beeg" city, will return to the Tillikum gymnasium Saturday evening to match holds with Chief Thunderbird, Saanich Indian, in the five eight-minute-round semi-windup of the weekly mat show.

Fight promoters would call the bout a "natural." Maloney and the "Chief" used to do a lot of leather throwing a few years ago but both deserted the padded mitt game for the bone-bending pastime and are doing quite well for themselves. Chief Thunderbird recently returned from Honolulu where he made a good showing, while the Bostonian, until very recently, acted in the role of manager for the hooded matman, the "Red Shadow."

Maloney still throws a few lefts and rights and thinks nothing of using unethical tactics on his opponent. Chief Thunderbird likes to wrestle and leave the punching to someone else, but for all that, he knows when to "pay off."

Headlining the show will be Canada's number one pachyderm and title claimant, Earl McCready, Saskatchewan, and Rudy LaDitzel, New York Italian, and one of the most colorful performers. The match is scheduled for eight ten-minute rounds and should produce plenty of excitement for the fans.

The first bout will commence at 8:30 o'clock.

Sunday School Soccer

Games scheduled for Saturday in the Sunday School Football League follow:
Lake Hill Mission vs. St. Albans, Reynolds Road; referee, P. J. Woodley.

St. Aidans vs. Metropolitans, Central Park; referee, P. Tooby.

Centennial vs. Emmanuel Baptist, Spencer's Park; referee, H. Tooby.

Lake Hill line-up will be as follows: Coles, Carson, Cullen, Speiler, Underwood, Dunn, Adams, Harper, Warren, Newman, Druce, Hawkes and Haywood.

Big Pile-Up in Americans' Goal Area

This is a typical example of the things referees have to contend with when a goal is scored and a player is claimed to have been in the crease. Regardless of the way the officials rule, the crowd is dissatisfied. The picture shows a scramble in front of the New York Americans' goal as Montreal Maroons came down with a puck barrage. The game was played in New York, with the visitors leaving on the long end of a 6-4 score.

Thirty-Five to Run in Annual Britannia Race

Eighteen Juniors and Seventeen Juveniles to Face Starter in Good Friday Event—No Senior Race This Year—Entry List Out

For the first time in history, juniors and juveniles will dominate the British Branch, Canadian Legion, annual Good Friday road race, which starts from headquarters, View Street, at 10:30. Due to the lack of entries, officials called off the senior event this year, and therefore will devote all their time to the youngsters. Altogether some thirty-five runners, eighteen in the junior event and seventeen in the juvenile, will face the starting gun.

Junior runners will compete for The Times Challenge Cup, while the younger competitors will go in search of the Hinchcliffe Trophy. The navy has a large list of racers in the junior event, P. E. Geddes, Sooke, and Arthur Clements, Victoria, last year's winners in the junior and juvenile classes, respectively, will be on hand to defend their titles.

The routes for the events are as follows:

Junior—Leave headquarters on View Street and proceed along Douglas Street to Cloverdale Avenue, then to Quadra, along Quadra to View Street and back to the starting point. Distance, approximately five miles.

Juvenile—Leave View Street headquarters and proceed along Douglas Street to Beacon Street (Beacon Hill Park), then around the markers and returning along Douglas Street and back to the starting point. Distance, approximately two miles.

Juvenile entries follow: Fred Anderson, North Ward School; Arthur Young and Duncan McLean, Lampson Street School; Hugh Thomson, Victoria Sea Cadet Corps; Edwin T. Eade, Charlie Scott and Frank Woodward, Craigflower School; Dennis Crockett, Jackson Walker and Ian Taylor, Margaret Jenkins School; Dallas L. Woodburn, unattached; Leonard Jones, Stanley Jones, Stanley Cains and John Syrett, Sooke Superior School; James Beasley and Norman Allan, Y.M.C.A.

Percy C. Payne will be in charge of the events. Chief of Police Thomas Heatley has been named the official starter, and Archie McKinnon, timekeeper. J. Neary, president of the branch; D. G. Holmes and W. G. Stone will be the judges. Police escorts will accompany the runners.

Aside from the main trophies at stake, first, second and third prizes will be given in both events.

DARK BLUES THREE LENGTHS IN FRONT AFTER GREAT RACE

Oxonians Terminate Long String of Victories of Cantabs After Fourteen Years—Cambridge No Match for Winners Over Last Quarter Mile—Slowest Time Made Since 1877

PUTNEY-ON-THAMES, March 24 (P.T.).—The defeatist jinx broken by their first victory in fourteen years, Oxford rowing men tonight looked forward to evening the all-time score of the 109 years of the intervarsity classic and re-establishing the fame of the Dark Blues, so long overshadowed by brilliant crews from Cambridge.

Today's Oxford victory brought the count to Cambridge, forty-seven wins; Oxford, forty-one. One race was a dead heat; in 1912 both boats sunk; in the years immediately following establishment of the event in 1829 it was not strictly an annual tilt and several years went by without a race at all.

In breaking the Cantabs' string of victories at thirteen today, the heavier Oxford crew showed more reserve power, and after holding the Light Blues on even terms for the first four miles, pulled away over the final 300 yards in a magnificent burst of speed to win by three lengths.

For the first four miles, however, it was perhaps the greatest race—in contrast to the superb rowing feats of post-war Cambridge crews—in living memory. Until the final stage was reached, never more than a third of a length separated the crews. The lead changed time and again.

Neither cox steered a particularly good course and several times it looked as if the blades of the rival crews would foul. Once they actually touched, but caused no serious trouble. The jar lost Oxford a little ground.

Over the last quarter-mile the Cantabs were no match for the power of the Dark Blues, who pulled away steadily and crossed the finish line almost paddling. The Light Blues held on gamely, rowing a short, fast stroke, but were unable to halt Oxford's increasing margin of superiority.

At the end the Cambridge oarsmen were all in, leaning heavily on their sweeps. The Oxonians were comparatively fresh, remaining upright and rowing briskly to the wharf.

Huge crowds lined the course from Putney Bridge to Mortlake, but because it was midweek there were fewer spectators than the usual 500,000 when the race is rowed on the traditional Saturday. Tidal conditions made a week-end fixture impossible this year.

The race was rowed in perfect weather. Nevertheless Oxford's time of 22:39 was the slowest since 1877, when the race resulted in a dead heat in 24:06. The course record of 18:03 was made by Cambridge three years ago.

After a false start, the rival eights got away at 11:32 a.m. (3:32 a.m. P.S.T.). Oxford started stroking at thirty-six to the minute against thirty-five by Cambridge. The Dark Blues were slightly ahead over the first few yards, but by the time the boat-houses had been left behind the shells were level.

At Fulham football ground, Cambridge took a quarter-length lead and maintained it until Craven Steps, 780 yards from the start, were reached. Here Oxford crept up and at the mile post the Dark Blues were a quarter-length in front. Both crews were stroking thirty-two. Increasing their stroke to thirty-three, Oxford was still a quarter-length ahead at Crabtree, one mile and seventy-three yards on their way. Cambridge maintained a thirty-two stroke and both eights were rowing strongly.

At Harrods, Oxford again increased their stroke a notch, stroking thirty-four to the minute, with Cambridge still keeping to thirty-two. At Hammersmith Bridge the Dark Blues were leading by a third of a length. As the halfway mark neared the Oxonians relaxed somewhat, and the Light Blues, now stroking twenty-eight, went slightly ahead at Lead Mills.

At the Stork training ship, two miles from the start, Cambridge were stroking thirty to Oxford's twenty-eight and were leading by a quarter-length. At Chiswick Steps the Light Blues were still in front.

Oxford regained the lead at Chiswick Church, two and three-quarters miles from the start. They were three feet in front and were stroking thirty-three to thirty-one for Cambridge. At Dukes Meadows the Light Blues headed the Oxonians by a foot. Both eights were going strongly and cutting the water without splashing.

The Dark Blues were slightly ahead as Devonshire Meadows were reached. They increased their lead to half a length at Bulls Head, but at Barnes Bridge, three miles 933 yards from the start, the Cantabs were in front by a quarter-length, stroking thirty-two to Oxford's thirty.

Here Oxford made their bid. At White Hart, 300 yards from the finish, they were a length ahead. They increased it to a length and three-quarters at Mortlake Brewery and went on to win by three lengths. The Dark Blues finished almost paddling, with the Cantabs rowing a short, faster stroke and racing gamely but vainly.

Terrific applause greeted the Oxford victory.

The intermediate times: Mile post, 4:39; Hammersmith Bridge, 8:00; Chiswick Steps, 13:33; Barnes Bridge, 18:34.

Tacoma Eleven to Oppose All-Stars In Holiday Match

UNDEFEATED in community play for the past three seasons, the L. S. Whetstone Dentists soccer eleven from Tacoma will be seen in action tomorrow afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park. The visitors will oppose the Victoria and District Wednesday Football League all-stars in an international exhibition fixture, one of the first staged here for many a day. The kick-off has been moved forward to 2:15 o'clock at the request of the Tacoma players, many of whom will return on the afternoon boat. The local loop has named a strong squad to oppose the visitors.

PERRY TRIMS VETERAN ACE

English Tennis Star Scores Easy Victory Over Tilden in New York

NEW YORK, March 24 (P.T.).—Big Bill Tilden, conceding too much age, speed and control to his agile British rival, was roundly beaten at singles tonight for the first time on Madison Square Garden's green canvas court by Frederick John Perry in the feature match of an all-star professional tennis show.

A near capacity crowd of 14,000, paying $5.50 top, watched the British ace polish off the forty-four-year-old "old master" by scores of 6-1, 6-3, 4-6, 6-0.

Perry's all-around ball-hawking, greater agility and steadiness thoroughly subdued the great American veteran with the exception of the closing stages of the third set, the only stage at which Tilden gave his vociferous followers anything to cheer about.

JUST A MEMORY
Previously unbeaten in his Garden singles matches as a pro, Tilden was just a memory of the one-time world champion. Against an opponent who was in short pants when he first scaled the tennis peaks, in 1920, "Big Bill" had little but his craftiness to combat Perry's dynamic shotmaking. The Britisher rarely relaxed the pressure. He demonstrated his acrobatic ability at one point by hurdling two linesmen at full speed after racing for a cross-court shot.

Tilden forced the opening game to deuce five times, but furnished little excitement otherwise, except for his third-set rally. His service was broken eight times.

Vincent Richards, Tilden's former championship doubles partner, split a two-set opening match with Bruce Barnes. It was cut short to get the big match on the air, with Richards at the microphone. Richards took the first set, 6-4; Barnes the second, 6-3.

THISTLES' LINE-UP
Line-up of Saanich Thistles First Division football team for tomorrow morning's match against Victoria West, at Heywood Avenue ground, at 10:30, follows: Chalmers, Esler, Harper, Williams, Leggett, Speller, Stoffer, Sage, McLean, Crowe, Watt, English and Robbins.

REFEREE WAS NOT STRUCK

President Frank Calder Investigates Action of Players in Play-Offs

DETROIT, March 24 (P.T.).—President Frank Calder, of the National Hockey League, said tonight he was convinced Red Horner, of Toronto Maple Leafs, did not strike Referee Ag Smith during a free-for-all in last night's play-off at Toronto against New York Rangers.

"I have a report from Referee Smith which completely exonerates Horner," he said. "Smith says he was not struck by Horner, and, therefore, I have no intention of taking any action against the Toronto player."

But Calder was not prepared to say what decision he would make in the case of Dit Clapper, Boston wingman, who got a major penalty at Montreal for punching Dave Trotter, of Maroons. Clapper also struck Referee Clarence Campbell, who had reported this incident to the National Hockey League board.

"I have reports from Referees Campbell and Dye on the Montreal incident, but it would be unfair to reach a decision until Clapper has had a chance to defend himself," he said.

PARTINGTON CHOSEN

NANAIMO, March 24.—J. F. Edge Partington was re-elected president of Nanaimo Cricket Club; Fred Jepson, vice-president; Dr. W. Clements, secretary; Matt Armstrong, captain; W. Burn, vice-captain; Doug Waugh, equipment committee; J. Tuck and D. Waugh, umpires; Miss K. Waugh, official scorer.

SCOTTISH FOOTBALL

GLASGOW, March 24 (P.T.).—Results of First Division Scottish Football League, games played today follow:
Albion Rovers 1, Aberdeen 5.
Rangers 4, Hamilton Academicals 0.
St. Johnstone 4, Queen of South 0.

MARINE, RAIL and AIR

BEHIND TIME
FROM ORIENT

Ss. Empress of Asia Will Arrive Here on Saturday Afternoon

Inbound from the Philippine Islands by way of China and Japan ports, the Canadian Pacific liner Ss. Empress of Asia will reach William Head at 3 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, according to advices received by James Macfarlane, general agent of Canadian Pacific Steamships in Victoria. This should bring the big liner up alongside Rithet Piers by 4 o'clock. It is also possible that the Asia, if favored with good weather today and tomorrow, may reach quarantine at an earlier hour, and be up to the local dock sooner than the time stated, as a result.

VESSELS DUE

Coming in from the United Kingdom by way of Panama Canal, California and Washington ports, the Furness Line motorship, Pacific

Exporter, docked alongside Rithet Piers overnight. The Exporter brought in seven passengers, four of whom were for Victoria and three for Vancouver. The combined freight and passenger ship discharged general cargo here, including some citrus fruits. Friday, also, the Royal Mail Line ship Narenta is expected at the local dock to Adam P. Moffatt, local representative.

LUMBER SHIPS

To load lumber, the freighter Trafalgar is expected at Ogden Point tomorrow, according to King Brothers. The local shipping firm also is looking for the Ms. Seattle over the coming week-end.

BUILT IN VICTORIA

Seattle advices tell about the sale of the Margaret F. Sterling, built in Victoria in 1919 and launched from the Chalmers yards here as the Vancouver. The ship, which has been lying in Lake Union for some time, was sold to Captain H. F. Haines, Seattle, by the Siberian Fish and Cold Storage Company. The new owner is keeping his plans concerning the schooner more or less secret. The Sterling is registered with Lloyd's at 977 tons, is 199 feet long and has a beam of forty feet.

VISITOR HERE

J. J. Thornton, publicity man for the Canadian National at Vancouver, was a visitor in Victoria yesterday. Mr. Thornton stated that all indications pointed to a record travel year, with the bulk of the movement westward. The Alaska business looks exceptionally good, too, all the sailings of the "Princess" ships being fairly well booked already.

Building Irish Plane Base

Preparations for the new trans-Atlantic air route are being speeded in Ireland with the Cambria, giant flying boat, making trial flights over the Atlantic Ocean off the coast of Erin. One of the huge-booms which will mark landing positions at the new air base in the mouth of the River Shannon at Foynes, Limerick, is shown here. An expenditure of $10,000,000 is expected to make the base one of the best in the world. At the top, the Cambria is pictured coming to rest in the waters of the Shannon.

PLAN TO AID
AIR TRAVEL

Huge "Seadrome" Anchored
In Pacific Proposed by Australian Engineer

LOS ANGELES, March 24 (AP).—With plans for a huge "seadrome" between the West Coast of North America and the Hawaiian Islands, to aid air travel, M. E. Heiser, Australian engineer, arrived here today to confer with civic and financial leaders.

He proposed a U-shaped raft with arms 2,000 feet long and 400 wide, rising 117 feet above the water level. Seaplanes would land within the "U".

The seadrome would cost approximately $30,000,000, and would require 10,000 men, working two years, to build. It would be towed to the mooring point after construction.

Shipping Companies Leave
No Alternative, States
Secretary of I.B.U.

VANCOUVER, March 24 (AP).—James Maskell, secretary of the Inland Boatmen's Union of Vancouver local, today said members of his organization would picket coastal vessels when they dock here.

"The decision of shipping companies not to sign agreements with the I.B.U. leaves us no alternative but to continue as we have been doing, and tie up every ship," Maskell declared.

He said the St. Northholm, owned by Frank Waterhouse & Company of Canada, Ltd., and due in Seattle today with British Columbia cargo, would undoubtedly be picketed.

Under Reciprocal Arrange-

British Boys in Homes

Friendship between Canadian and Old Country students which has been progressing so steadily in recent years, as a result of annual visits between high school and college students, will make a further advance this Summer when a group of Canadian preparatory schoolboys will visit British boys in their own homes, as well as at the schools they are attending.

Announcement of this new school-boy visit to England was made yesterday by J. J. Forster, steamship general passenger agent at Vancouver for the Canadian Pacific, who advised that the boys will travel under the auspices of the Overseas Education League and their programme will be along the lines of a similar tour last Summer, with the added feature of the visit to

TO ASSEMBLE

Coronation Review Off Spit-head Will Summon Together 140 Ships

LONDON, March 24 (AP).—The Admiralty announced today that 140 warships would participate in the Coronation review off Spithead on May 20. Units of the Home Fleet will arrive here on May 14, followed by the Mediterranean and reserve fleets.

On May 21 the newly-crowned King will board the Southampton and visit the flagships of the different fleets. That evening the grey guardians of Britain's sea power will disperse to their stations.

Foreign warships participating in the gala review, May 20, have been asked to take their places there two days in advance of that date.

The Government today offered the General Council of Trades Unions a bloc of 5,000 fifteen-shilling ($75) seats along the line of march of the Coronation procession. The council accepted the offer.

VESSEL FISHED
OUT OF SEASON

Cheque for Halibut Sales
Estreated and Forwarded
To Ottawa

VANCOUVER, March 24 (AP).—A cheque for $636 for halibut landed in New Westminster, last Saturday, off the halibut boat John Eiler, has been estreated by the Department of Fisheries and forwarded to Ottawa, it was learned here today.

Estreatment of the cheque was made on the grounds that the vessel fished out of season, in contravention to the international halibut treaty.

Fisheries Department officials said the vessel cleared to fish deep-sea for black cod, and caught several thousand of pounds of halibut on the black cod bait and lines.

The John Eiler was the first boat to bring halibut to New Westminster, and was out of line with a "gentleman's agreement" of fishermen, in which it was agreed that only half the vessels would put out during the first two weeks of the halibut season.

Boats with names beginning with the letters from M to Z left at the opening of the season, while those from A to L have agreed to wait two weeks before proceeding to the fishing grounds. The latter vessels were the first to leave last year.

Outsider Surprises in Triumph at Tanforan in Feature Race

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24 (AP).—Dunlin Lady, an outsider in the betting, galloped off with today's feature race at Tanforan track, winning the six-furlong sprint by ten lengths. The time, on a slow track, was 1:17.

Proclivity was second, while Deerfly closed strongly to take third. Dunlin Lady, a four-year-old Chocolate filly, is owned by S. R. Smith, of Vancouver, B.C.

She paid off at $16.20 and $3.80. Proclivity returned $3.60 and $3.00, and Deerfly $3.80.

Jane Dixon Says:

WE CANNOT COMPEL LOVE, NOR CAN WE FORCE OTHERS TO BEHAVE HONORABLY—THE WRITER OF TODAY'S LETTER IS A WOMAN WHO HAS A PHILANDERING HUSBAND

Why can't human beings with all the experience of truthful living back of them be honest?

Laugh at the old shibboleth about honesty being the best policy if you will, but if you can produce a better policy and make it stick, you will go down in history as being wiser than Solomon.

Dishonesty is cowardice, and to call it by any other name is to miss the crux of it.

"Dear Miss Dixon:

"I am the wife in a case like that of 'Divided.'

"I have been married nine years to a man I loved and trusted. (Note the past tense in this tribute.) He didn't tell me until after the affair had been going on for more than a year, and only then because I faced him with the facts.

"He would claim that we weren't suited as the cause of the rift between us. He pleaded expense as the reason he could not do the necessary thing to help me when I needed it most, but really it was the affair with another woman.

"It all happened when I was in a bad physical condition, and it has been almost more than I can bear. The other woman probably thinks he is wealthy, with his new car and the amount of money he spends on himself and her. There's a catch in her plans, however, because she does not know the next-egg she thinks he has is not his. I don't suppose she knows either that his family is in need and faces real suffering.

WILL FIGHT TO A FINISH

"A man who has failed to support one family should not attempt to acquire another family. The other woman is self-supporting. So was I—nine years ago.

"It is not a case of being a dog in the manger, but I will fight to a finish for myself and my children. I am not physically able, nor am I trained to go out and make my own living. My children require all my time.

"Possibly 'Divided,' too, is worshipping an ideal that does not exist, for no man of honor with responsibilities such as this man has is free to offer or to accept love that does not belong to him."

"Troubled."

Comment: What an infinite lot of trouble this husband would have saved himself, his wife, his family and the other woman, had he been man enough to have met the truth squarely.

Suppose that instead of lying and cheating, of giving his wife to understand that she had failed him as a mate, he had told her the truth—that his heart was involved elsewhere. She would have been stunned, wounded to the depths of her being, but the wound would have been a clean one, not an ugly jagged one that develops into a dangerous ulcer.

This man does not love his family. He does not love the other woman. He loves himself!

CAN'T COMPEL HIM TO RETURN

His wife should demand that he make a choice between his family and his extra-marital affair, and if he fails to do so she should take the matter to a Domestic Relations Court, where the other woman will be put on record and the husband compelled to care for his children and his wife to the best of his financial ability.

In cases such as this, action speaks louder than words, and it speaks a great deal more eloquently and effectively.

If the "fight to a finish" this wife intends to wage is for the purpose of forcing a philandering husband to return to the fold and reclaim his love—the fight already is lost to her. If it is for the purpose of protecting her own welfare and that of the children, there is every chance that she will win it. We cannot compel love, nor can we force others to behave honorably. We can compel some sort of decency by invoking the law to restrain the more ignoble offenders.

There is only one dentist for each 4,000,000 of the nation's population, the figures indicated, and one doctor for each 54,000 people. At the beginning of the year, the council report said, China had 8,922 registered dentists, 119 dentists, 575 nurses, 3,174 trained midwives, 189 pharmacists, and 2,263 drug dispensers who have no foreign pharmaceutical training. The population is estimated at 480,000,000.

CHANGED HER SHOES
FIVE TIMES A DAY
Suffered for 20 Years With Rheumatism

Try and picture the life this woman led for twenty years changing her shoes several times a day in a vain endeavor to attain some relief from the rheumatic pains that were constantly troubling her. Then imagine her joy when she found that Kruschen was driving away the rheumatism. This is what she writes:

"I have been using Kruschen Salts for four years. For twenty years previously I had suffered with my feet, sometimes changing my shoes five times a day, and frequently sitting without any, as the pain was so great. Now I can wear the same pair of shoes all day with comfort. I cannot speak too highly of Kruschen Salts. Only those who have been in constant pain with their feet for years can realize what it is to be free." (Mrs. E.A.)

It is deposits of excess uric acid, lodging between the joints, which are frequently the cause of rheumatism. Kruschen Salts contain two ingredients—sodium and potassium—which are effective solvents of uric acid. (Adv.)

THE WOMEN'S WORKROOM
Sir, I would like to call attention, through the medium of your paper, to the tag day to be held on Saturday, March 27, in aid of the Women's Workroom.

The excellent work which is being done by this organization, in providing assistance to women in urgent need in a way which enables them to preserve their sense of independence, deserves the whole-hearted support of our citizens. The workroom, in giving opportunity for paid work to many women who would otherwise have had to depend on relief, is filling a definite need in the community. At the same time, it does not compete with any recognized business.

It is a well-known fact that the workroom has been well managed since its inception. I feel sure it will be of interest to know that the funds of the organization have been so expended that 92 per cent have been paid in wages, 6.75 per cent for materials and only 1.25 per cent for operating expenses.

I sincerely hope that there will be a very generous response to this

THE WOMEN'S WORKROOM
Sir, I would like to call attention, through the medium of your paper, to the tag day to be held on Saturday, March 27, in aid of the Women's Workroom.

The excellent work which is being done by this organization, in providing assistance to women in urgent need in a way which enables them to preserve their sense of independence, deserves the whole-hearted support of our citizens. The workroom, in giving opportunity for paid work to many women who would otherwise have had to depend on relief, is filling a definite need in the community. At the same time, it does not compete with any recognized business.

It is a well-known fact that the workroom has been well managed since its inception. I feel sure it will be of interest to know that the funds of the organization have been so expended that 92 per cent have been paid in wages, 6.75 per cent for materials and only 1.25 per cent for operating expenses.

I sincerely hope that there will be a very generous response to this

MOTOR ACCIDENTS AND EYESIGHT
Sir,—"Fine Imposed" is the laconic heading of a brief paragraph by your reporter in today's Colonist, in which is noted that a certain defendant was found responsible for a recent motor accident. A fine was imposed, with costs. This incident is the result of just one of the many daily and increasingly frequent motor accidents which damage property, cause bodily harm and an incredible number of deaths throughout the world. Victoria, I understand, has supplied more than its proportionate share of this toll of loss and suffering.

This report informs us that "the magistrate felt that the eyesight of the accused was not as good as it
